Mixed Sports Law Of State Knocked Out

Federal Court Strikes Down '56 Legislation

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A federal court ruling with far-reaching effects Friday knocked out a Louisiana law banning sports competition between white and Negro athletes.

The law, passed by the state Legislature in 1956, prevented mixed boxing matches and teams with Negro players from meeting all-white squads in events such as the Sugar Bowl.

Although not concerned in the case, filed by Negro boxer Joe Dorsey, the Sugar Bowl could be the chief beneficiary of the ruling.

OPPONENT

The Sugar Bowl has been searching for an opponent for top-ranked Louisiana State in the New Year's Day football game. The sports segregation law narrowed the field to a handful of teams.

The Air Force Academy, ranked eighth in this week's Associated Press poll, was the choicest plum for the Sugar Bowl. But like the other service academies—Army and Navy—the Air Force frowned on the sports segregation law and all but eliminated itself from consideration.

Although he declined comment on the ruling pending a consultation with attorneys, Sugar Bowl president Claude (Monk) Simons did not eliminate the Air Force as a possibility. Persistent reports during the week all but had Clemson in the other corner to face unbeaten LSU in the post-season extravaganza.

Louisiana attorney general Jack Gremlion, when informed of the ruling, said it was his mandatory duty to file an appeal.

The court, however, also tossed

Accident Toll Is Boosted By Cold, Snow, Ice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The toll of Thanksgiving weekend accident deaths was boosted Friday by wintry cold, snow and ice.

The lengthening list of fatal accidents included items like these:

Two killed and six injured when three cars piled up on ice-slick pavement of the Indiana toll road at Gary Friday.

Two Chicago boys drowned when they fell through thin, newly formed ice of a park lagoon. Three were killed in a head-on auto crash in blinding eastern Colorado snow.

The harsh weather hazards were by-products of the season's most extensive storm which swept from the Rockies to the East—nearly sea-board. Sharp cold was blamed for two fires early Thursday which took 10 lives in the Southern plains. Nine of the dead were children—five in an Oklahoma City convalescent home, and four who died with their mother in fire which destroyed their Little Rock, Ark., home.

One effect of the severe weather, however, was to hold down traffic volume on highways.

Three Persons Killed In La.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death toll for the Thanksgiving holiday weekend rose to three Friday when a traffic accident killed a woman at Leesville.

Mrs. Wanda Armstrong Booth, 20, of Leesville lost control of her car, officers said, as she and her two-year-old son were en route to a store. She was fatally injured when thrown from the vehicle and pinned underneath. She died later in a Leesville clinic. The child received minor injuries.

Two traffic deaths were reported Thanksgiving Day. They were Charles R. King, 25, of Holden, and Mary Judy Sparrow of Colfax.

When pretty Miss Shoda stepped out of the car, several teen-age girls sighed, "stunning, isn't she?"

Miss Shoda, whose engagement to Akihito was announced Thursday, was accompanied by her parents. They spent 30 minutes in a formal protocol visit which made the tradition-breaking engagement official.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn.), charging a "malicious conspiracy," asked Friday for a House investigation of the election in which she lost her bid for another term.

The campaign was enlivened by a public plea from her husband Andy that she get out of politics and come home.

Later the husband filed a $200,000 slander and alienation of affections suit against Mrs. Knutson's administrative assistant, William Kjeldahl. This suit was dropped this week.

The blonde and smiling Mrs. Knutson Friday called a news conference, distributed copies of a 1,500-word petition filed with the House Special Committee on Campaign Expenditures and then refused to reply to virtually all questions.

RELATIONS

Specifically, she would not discuss the present state of her domestic relations. She had Thanksgiving dinner with her husband at a Washington restaurant Thursday.

In her petition, Mrs. Knutson said things stated about her by her husband and others "were a basic part of a malicious conspiracy" by persons associated with her successful Republican opponent, Odin Langen.

At his home in Kentucky, Minn. Langen declined comment except for "That's interesting. We conducted a clean campaign."

Mrs. Knutson's petition attributed much of her trouble to Maurice O. Nelson of Fosston, Minn. She identified him as a lawyer who advised her husband and also acted as chairman of a Langen campaign committee.

She said Nelson consulted with Knutson on "the relations of petitioner's husband to petitioner" and suggested, or at least knew in advance about, the filing of the suit against Kjeldahl. She said information Nelson got as an attorney was passed on to her opponent.

"The entire malicious campaign," she said, "constituted a fraud on the voters. Had such fraud not been perpetrated the results of the voting would have been different."

She said she lost by 1,300 votes out of 94,336. She was the only Democratic member of Congress defeated by a Republican for reelection.

'Free City' Plan Of Reds Is Opposed

BERLIN (AP)—Mayor Willy Brandt Friday won firm backing from Western leaders in his fight against the Soviet attempt to turn West Berlin into an unarmored neutral city.

Diplomatic reports pouring into West Berlin indicated the United States, Britain and France would reject the Soviet maneuver. U.S. congressmen visiting the isolated city assured the fighting mayor staunch U.S. support. Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Britain sent Brandt assurances of American backing.

The West Berliners, heartened by such outside support, defied grim Red hints of trouble when Moscow's six-month period for accepting the neutral city proposal expires.

WELCOMED

Communist East Germany's Premier Otto Grotewohl welcomed the Soviet plan, as a great concession to the West. Grotewohl, in a statement, reminded West Berliners that his regime is not backing off on its claim that all Berlin belongs to East Germany.

He said his regime would assure West Berlin of free lines of communications if West Berliners accepted the Soviet plan.

Soviet diplomatic officials in East Berlin let it be known that a serious situation would confront West Berlin if the so-called free city proposal is spurned.

Grandt coldly rejected the idea as a Communist move to swallow up his city within the Soviet bloc. He appealed for Western backing to resist the threat to the city, isolated 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

Vice President Nixon sent a message to Brandt saying he and other members of the government "wish to assure you in these difficult times of undiminished American support."

Nixon told a news conference in London: "We already have two Germanys. (Soviet Premier) Khrushchev would give us three. It would only make the situation worse."

Cold combined with the snow to make roads treacherous.

The Weather Bureau at Chicago noted that the storm moved at unusual speed.

While skies cleared in the Mississippi Valley and farther west, the heavy clouds rolled into New York State.

Disturbance Of Heart Hits Court Justice

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter has suffered a "mild heart disturbance" and has been hospitalized for rest and observation, it was announced Friday night.

A court spokesman said Frankfurter, who observed his 76th birthday on Nov. 15, said the justice consulted with his physician Monday after he had complained of not feeling well.

He said the physician, Dr. Walter J. Bloedorn, ordered Frankfurter into a hospital.

RESTING

Bloedorn, the spokesman said, "considered it advisable to hospitalize the justice for observation following a mild heart disturbance. He is resting comfortably and the doctors are pleased with his progress."

It was not disclosed immediately when the Austrian-born justice, the oldest active member of the high court, suffered the disturbance. The court spokesman did not call it a heart attack.

There have been rumors recently that Frankfurter would retire fairly soon. But there has been no confirmation from the justice, one of the court's most valuable and peppy members.

Under the law, Supreme Court justices with 10 years service on the bench may retire at age 70 with full salary of $35,000 a year.

Dr. Bloedorn said Frankfurter entered George Washington University Hospital under his own power. He said the justice was not in an oxygen tent.

"I don't know when he'll come home," the physician said. "He'll remain in the hospital for a while."

Bloedorn, reached by telephone, would not explain the term "heart disturbance." He also declined to say whether or not it could be called a heart attack. Nor would he say if Frankfurter had any record of heart trouble.

Super Secret 'Goose' Fired

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force fired its super-secret Goose across the Atlantic Friday from the missile test center on this Florida cape.

Launching of the porpoise-shaped missile was visible from the beaches. Two jet chase planes flew after the surface-to-surface missile following takeoff to observe its progress.

As is usual in the case of Goose firings, the Air Force declined to comment on details but confirmed a missile had been fired.

The Goose flies at upwards of 2,000 m.p.h. Its primary function is to act as a decoy and confuse enemy radar, permitting an attacking force to sweep in on enemy targets with a minimum of opposition.

The Goose is powered by a solid fuel booster rocket for takeoff, and a 2,000 pound thrust turbojet engine for sustained flight.

Funeral Service Scheduled Here For Sol Cahn, 82

Funeral services for Sol Cahn, 82-year-old former Monroe businessman, will be conducted Monday at 11 a.m. at Hixson Brothers Funeral Home Chapel.

Rabbi Jacob Lantz will officiate, with burial in the Jewish Cemetery by Hixson.

Mr. Cahn died at his home in Miami Beach, Fla., late Thursday after a brief illness. The body is expected to arrive in Monroe early Sunday, and will lie in state at the funeral home until time for services.

A native of Ruelzheim, Germany, Mr. Cahn came to this country in 1899, settling in south Louisiana. He moved to Monroe early in the 1920's, and was connected with several businesses here before establishing his own women's ready to wear store in 1910. He retired in 1936 and made his home in Monroe and Florida.

Mr. Cahn maintained membership in the congregation of B'Nai Israel and the B'Nai B'rith men's club here.

He assisted several members of his family in migrating from Europe to this country over the past 20 years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Sally Cahn; six nephews, including Eugene and Oscar Cahn of Monroe; three nieces, and several grandnieces and grandnephews.

GOOD FELLOWS REPORT

Spirit Of Christmas Spotlight On Needy

The spirit of Christmas with all it portends hit the Twin Cities area yesterday afternoon when the Yule season received its official welcoming here to a pace set by the second annual Marching Band Festival.

Thousands of young and old crowded downtown streets to see the extravaganza and to join in the gaiety and joy of the season. It was a fitting event for the forthcoming occasion.

This feeling is reflected in the total amount of money contributed to the Good Fellows to be used in the annual effort to make Christmas a happy day for the less fortunate of the community.

Only three donations have been received to date in the 1958 Good Fellows project, but these three checks account for a total of $160.00.

The contributors and amounts are as follows:

B. B. Martin $ 50.00
In Memory of George Loftin and Wilson Ewing $100.00
Mrs. H. G. Prophit, Sr., in memory of her late husband, Harry G. Prophit, Sr. $ 10.00
Donations may be sent to "Good Fellows," News-Star — Morning World, Monroe, La.
While only three contributions have been received to date, the mail bringing in requests for aid and cheer this Christmas is already mounting. The majority are from youngsters in families where funds are low and the prospects of a happy Christmas are slight. Every year, scores of people here have no Christmas except that provided through the Good Fellows' efforts in raising funds to buy toys, clothing, food and candies.

Free-World Morale Set On Outcome

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., (AP)—The Air Force blasted a mighty Atlas missile into space Friday night, aiming the 100-ton weapon over the full ocean-spanning range of 6,325 miles.

If the "Beast," as the Atlas is known, drops its big nose cone on its target in the South Atlantic Ocean near Ascension Island, the United States will have fired its first Intercontinental Ballistic Missile—ICBM.

MORALE BOOSTER

Such a flight would deliver a tremendous booster shot to free-world morale, for Russia is believed to have developed an operational ICBM and to have used it in launching the massive Sputnik III.

There was no immediate official word on the outcome of the Atlas test. The flight, starting at 9:27 p. m. EST, would take only 30 minutes if all went well.

Ordinarily, the armed forces say nothing about how their military missiles make out, unless they blow up in sight of onlookers in the heavily populated Cape Canaveral area.

However, details of a successful ICBM shoot might be released because of the great propaganda value of such an achievement. Such an announcement was not expected before Saturday morning.

A twin-chambered booster engine at the tail of the 65-foot-long Atlas and a sustainer engine inside its massive shell built up 360,000 pounds of thrust before clamps holding the straining war rocket to its launching pad were released.

Then the Atlas rose ponderously. The dazzling white light of its exhaust flames lit up miles of the Florida east coast. The roar of its engines swept out like a great roll of thunder.

Atlas Success Is Reported By Craft's Builder

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Convair-Astronautics, builder of the Atlas ICBM, said Friday night that the missile completed the first successful long-range test flight.

J. V. Naish, president of the Convair division of General Dynamics Corp., issued the following statement:

"There are no fundamental question marks left in the Atlas program."

"Today's flight demonstrated the range capabilities of today's Atlas. The flights of the last 17 months have proved the soundness of the missile's advanced design, thin-wall structure and one and one-half staging; they have shown that the propulsion system works, that the guidance is accurate and that the nose cone can re-enter the atmosphere."

"We are now entering upon the last phase—the implementation of the Atlas as a potent deterrent force of the Strategic Air Command."

"But more than this, today's flight clearly demonstrates the Atlas' potential for employment in the peaceful development of scientific vehicles for the exploration of space."

"This will mean many more test flights, the training of Air Force crews in the techniques of quick launching of the missile, and the development of launching sites for the Strategic Air Command."

GOOD FELLOWS REPORT

Spirit Of Christmas
Spotlight On Needy

The spirit of Christmas with all it portends hit the Twin Cities area yesterday afternoon when the Yuletide season received its official welcoming here to a pace set by the second annual Marching Band Festival.

Thousands of young and old crowded downtown streets to see the extravaganza and to join in the gaiety and joy of the season. It was a fitting event for the forthcoming occasion.

This feeling is reflected in the total amount of money contributed to the Good Fellows to be used in the annual effort to make Christmas a happy day for the less fortunate of the community.

Only three donations have been received to date in the 1958 Good Fellows project, but these three checks account for a total of $160.00.

The contributors and amounts are as follows:

Free-World
Morale Set
On Outcome

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., (AP) —The Air Force blasted a mighty Atlas missile into space Friday night, aiming the 100-ton weapon over the full ocean-spanning range of 6,325 miles.

If the "Beast," as the Atlas is known, drops its big nose cone on its target in the South Atlantic Ocean near Ascension Island, the United States will have fired its first Intercontinental Ballistic Missile—ICBM.

MORALE BOOSTER

Such a flight would deliver a tremendous booster shot to free-world morale, for Russia is believed to have developed an operational ICBM and to have used it in launching the massive Sputnik III.

There was no immediate official word on the outcome of the Atlas test. The flight, starting at 9:27 p. m. EST, would take only 30 minutes if all went well.

Ordinarily, the armed forces say nothing about how their military missiles make out, unless they blow up in sight of onlookers in the heavily populated Cape Canaveral area.

However, details of a successful ICBM shoot might be released because of the great propaganda value of such an achievement. Such an announcement was not expected before Saturday morning.

A twin-chambered booster engine at the tail of the 85-foot-long Atlas and a sustainer engine inside its massive shell built up 360,000 pounds of thrust before clamps holding the straining war rocket to its launching pad were released.

Then the Atlas rose ponderously. The dazzling white lights of its exhaust flames lit up miles of the Florida east coast. The roar of its engines swept out like a great roll of thunder.

Atlas Success Is Reported By Craft's Builder

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Convair-Astronautics, builder of the Atlas ICBM, said Friday night that the missile completed the first successful long-range test flight.

J. V. Naish, president of the Convair division of General Dynamics Corp., issued the following statement:

"There are no fundamental question marks left in the Atlas program."

"Today's flight demonstrated the range capabilities of today's Atlas. The flights of the last 17 months have proved the soundness of the missile's advanced design, thin-wall structure and one and one-half staging; they have shown that the propulsion system works, that the guidance is accurate and that the nose cone can re-enter the atmosphere."

"We are now entering upon the last phase—the implementation of the Atlas as a potent deterrent force of the Strategic Air Command."

"This will mean many more test flights, the training of Air Force crews in the techniques of quick launching of the missile, and the development of launching sites for the Strategic Air Command."

"But more than this, today's flight clearly demonstrates the Atlas' potential for employment in the peaceful development of scientific vehicles for the exploration of space."

take top honors, but West Monroe was close behind in the A division with 62.8. Ouachita came in third with 61.9 points.
In the B competition, Farmerville, with 62 points, won out over Oak Grove High School, whose band took second place with 61.9 points. Winnsboro's Wildcat Band, last year's runner-up to Neville, was judged third with 61.8 points.
Marching in the junior high division were Ouachita Junior High, South Monroe Junior High and West Monroe Junior High. They were not judged.
An early morning rain, temperatures in the thirties and leaden skies caused speculation that the parade would be cancelled.
Four bands dropped out because of the inclement weather. They were Crowleyville, Tallulah, LaSalle and Bastrop.
But DeSiard Street was jammed with spectators when the parade kicked-off some minutes early. The Monroe Police Department had its hands full directing traffic.
In the twirling contest held earlier in the day, Miss Bobbie Jean Futch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Futch, of Monroe won the juvenile division.
Winner of the junior division was Pamela Gatlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gatlin, of West Monroe. Miss June Moore of Overlin won the senior division.
Cash prizes of $100 went to each of the Neville and Farmerville bands while West Monroe and Oak Grove were awarded $75 each. A $25 prize went to each of the Ouachita and Winnsboro bands.
The Columbia High School band, competing in the B division, was awarded $25.
Bands were judged on marching, playing and appearance. Score sheets were turned over to the respective band directors.

persons who see Christmas hope and cheer only from such benevolent organizations as Good Fellows, add up to a story with all the heart touching appeal that can be found anywhere.
This is typical of the appeals that are received:
"Would you please put us on your Christmas list. There are five children in our family. There are three boys and two girls. One is seven, one is nine, one is 11, one is 16 and I am 13 years old.
"My Daddy has been gone six years. We are on the welfare, but you know how it is on the welfare. You don't have enough during the months that aren't even Christmas.
"The one (in our family) that are seven, eight and 11 are boys. My sister is 16 and I am a girl, 13 years old.
"By the way, I still like to play house. We all would be very glad if you would help us out a little."
This little girl who sees hope for some Christmas happiness in the Good Fellows has a solid strain of goodness in her soul, as is clearly pointed out in the postscript to her letter to Good Fellows.
She adds:
"There is an old man cripple living in one of the rooms of our house. He is on the Old Age, but he has to buy so much medicine he can barely get along.
"He does not have enough money to pay anyone to do his cooking, so what he gets done, he does his self.
"Would you please surprise him by bringing him something for Christmas. His children live far away from him."
How close can you get to the basic goodness in man's heart?

CONGREGATION B'NAI ISRAEL

Special Program Marks 90th Year

"Reformed Judaism is a dynamic of our faith... a reasonable faith... a faith which talks to each generation in its own language... a faith which is a discipline and an affirmation of a way of life."
The occasion was observed at the service, which was held at 8:15 p.m. with the Sabbath Service and a special program in the Temple at the corner of Jackson and Oak Streets. A reception followed the program.
Guest speaker for the occasion was Irvin M. Shlenker of Houston, who discussed the meaning of Reformed Judaism.
Shlenker is a member of the National Board of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, the national body of the reformed movement.
The Temple was filled with members of the congregation and Shlenker described reformed Judaism as "a dynamic unfolding process."
Shlenker pointed out that "Judaism, along with all faiths, is witnessing a turning to religion that is prevalent in our world since we are technologically better prepared today to destroy ourselves than to preserve our civilization and its great scientific advances."
"Churches and synagogues must prepare to be one of our first lines of defense," he urged.
"We believe that knowledge of one's religion and consciousness of one's faith through study and prayer will furnish courage and strength to see the enemies of God and man as they are," the speaker continued, "and we will not become panicky when certain bigoted and lunatics arise to commit violence against both Judaism and Christianity."
The history of the congregation, from the time it was first organized on Sept. 4, 1868, through the 90 years leading to its present membership, was outlined by Fishman.
He noted that the program was dedicated to "Our beloved Rabbi and Rabbi Emeritus, Ferdinand K. Hirsch, whose tenure covered a period of thirty years."
Delving far back into Monroe's history, Fishman revealed that early writings "mention Jews here as far back as about 1800, and the public records show property transactions involving Jewish individuals during the years prior to the Civil War."
On Sept. 28, 1861, the present cemetery property was purchased from the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Texas Railroad, and the deed recorded at the Courthouse where the name of the congregation as the "Hebrew Congregation Man-nassas," Fishman stated.
Before there actually was a Temple, services were read by Lazarus Meyer in the homes of members.
In September of 1868, the original charter listing the name of the congregation as "B'nai Israel" was recorded, to continue for 99 years, for the purpose of erecting a synagogue for the worship of God; to institute schools and seminaries of learning for education of children and youth; to dispense charities and to establish customs for the burial of the dead; all things in furtherance of these objects to be done in accordance with the Mosaic laws and not violative of the laws of the State of Louisiana.

Says Farmers Are Neglected

Although 62 cents of every dollar spent in the Fifth Congressional District comes from agriculture, farmers are the most underprivileged and neglected group today, Rep. Otto E. Passman declared last night.
Passman spoke at the annual membership "victory" banquet here of the parish farm bureaus, which was attended by about 75 agriculture leaders.
Stressing the need for good public relations, the congressman said that the press is not always properly informed on pertinent agricultural topics.
Some papers, before the recent election, editorialized against Amendment No. 8, which would have exempted farmers from paying ad valorem taxes on their machinery; yet at the same time these papers were seeking to get ad valorem exemptions on equipment in their huge newspaper plants, Passman remarked.
The representative continued by saying that if a big industry were about to fold, it would make newspaper headlines. "I just wonder if these papers realize the importance of agriculture," he queried.
Noting that farmers had their peak year in 1947, Passman said that even then they received 50 per cent less money than their counterparts in industry.
Farmers have had to take a tremendous decrease, he said, while at the same time it is costing them more each year to operate.
Farm bureau members should go to the editors of their papers, point out these facts and improve public relations, he added.
Even though farmers are the number one consumer in the Fifth District and in America, our present United States administration doesn't know the problems of farmers, and cares less, Passman charged.
Good organization can help alleviate present conditions, he said, pointing out that doctors, dentists, postal employees and nearly all similar groups are properly organized.
"We must stick together and work hard in our farm bureaus," he said. "Let's take an active interest in our organization."
Also addressing the group was L. L. Lovell, president of the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation.
He praised Passman "for his untiring efforts to build up our district," and said that it is growing more important each year for the bureaus to enroll new farm families.
"Our problems in the United States are so complex today that we might succumb to the easy way out, a police state," he said. "This could solve our problems but end our freedom, he added.
The alternative to this, Lovell said, is hard work, sacrifice and understanding. Too often, people are inclined to try to solve problems without understanding the causes, he continued.
It would be easy to be guilty of accepting the force of a police state, and in doing so, to sell our freedom, Lovell stressed.
If we were to have a police state, about five per cent of the people who are commercial farmers would get "the short end of the stick" in dealing with the 95 per cent who are not, Lovell said.
"We have to keep our bargaining right. Agriculture has a vested interest in such matters," he added.
Turning modern day farmers "very important people," Lovell said the whole nation depends on agriculture. "We need a unified voice, and the farm bureau has provided such a voice as its purpose," he added.
Five parishes in the district reached their quota in the membership drive just ending, officials announced. They are Union, Jackson, Ouachita, Madison and Franklin.
Other parishes in this area are Lincoln, Caldwell, Morehouse, Richland, West Carroll, East Carroll, Tensas, Catahoula and Concordia.
There are 3,846 farm bureau members in the Fifth District and it is believed there will be about 25,000 in the state when all figures are compiled.
It was announced that the Northeast Louisiana bureaus will be host for the state convention next July. Members were also told of the American Farm Bureau convention set early next month in Boston, Mass.
A special train will leave the Monroe area Dec. 5 and members who can be asked by officials to attend.

OBSERVE 90th ANNIVERSARY—The Congregation B'nai Israel last night observed its 90th anniversary, with a religious service and special program. Phillip Fishman, left, discussed its history, Irvin M. Shlenker, center, reviewed the meaning of Reformed Judaism and Rabbi Jacob Lantz, right, conducted the Sabbath Service. (Staff photo by Bill Coleman)

Plaques honoring six persons for long membership were also presented by Fishman, to: Mrs. L. L. Lieber and Mrs. Leon Cohn, who have the longest continuous membership in the congregation; Mrs. Kate Allison, who has served with the choir for 20 years and to Leon Hammond, organist for 37 years.

The first temple was located where the Frances Hotel now stands, and was built of brick in 1869-70. It and the old Episcopal Church, were the only houses of worship here at that time.

The Congregation was composed of 53 persons, with a population of approximately 3000 in the city.

The Congregation acquired the property on the corner of Jackson and Oak Streets in 1914-15. In March, 1928, the Rabbi F. K. Hirsch was elected to serve the Temple.

Since the appointment of Rabbi Jacob Lantz in 1955, a Youth Group has been formed and grown into an active organization, the Congregation has obtained paid teachers in the Sabbath School, and a nursery for three-year-olds, and Hebrew Study Groups, the Speaker added.

ON DESIARD

Zale's Jewelry To Open Today

A formal ribbon cutting ceremony set for 9 a.m. today will open Monroe's newest jewelry store, located at the corner of DeSiard and St. John streets.

Present for the formalities of the Zale's Jewelry Store opening will be Mayors W. L. "Jack" Howard and J. Allan Norris of Monroe and West Monroe.

Also on hand for the event at 200 DeSiard Street will be officials from the company's executive offices in Dallas, southern zone supervisor Mel Berns and Jay Lebcowitz of Shreveport, district manager.

"We are delighted that Zale's buying power will make available to residents of the northeast Louisiana area quality merchandise at economical prices," Robert Kahn, manager of the new Zale's outlet said.

Mel Berns, vice-president and supervisor of Zale's southern zone, has jurisdiction over operations of more than 30 Zale jewelry stores in six southern states.

A veteran of more than 20 years in the jewelry business, Berns joined Zale's in 1940 in a sales capacity and has advanced through assistant manager, store manager, and district manager to his present position.

Berns' area extends from Columbus, Ga., in the east to Midland, Tex., in the west and includes stores in the states of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia.

Berns' headquarters are in San Antonio. Buying offices for the 108 Zale stores, located in 21 states, are maintained in Dallas, New York City, and overseas. Diamonds are purchased from the World Syndicate in London with the entire cutting, polishing, and setting processes controlled by Zale's to insure greatest brilliance and beauty at the lowest cost to the consumer.

A native of Louisiana, Kahn returns to his home state from Oklahoma City where he was most recently manager of Zale's Capitol Hill store.

The new building, leased by Zale's from Ida Kaplan, was designed by L. Milton King, Monroe architect, and built by Lamar Moore, general contractor.

A corner three-story location, the building is faced in buff brick with recessed display area including windows trimmed in aluminum and banked above and below in silvery serpentine marble.

The entryway is floored by terrazzo and leads into a 2,000-square-foot ground floor retail shopping area offering many of the latest features in merchandising design. Interior decor is in subdued tones accented by bright color at a variety of focal points, with a back wall of exposed brick for further contrast. Recessed lighting affords diffused illumination with pinpoint spots available above specific sales areas. The ceiling is of fibre glass acoustical tile.

The watch repair department's take-in counter is in the rear of the new store with a complete repair department sharing the mezzanine with the optical department.

Nationwide Hunt Is On For Convict

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI said Friday a nationwide search is under way for Spence Watkins Edwards, 32, a convicted killer, who escaped Nov. 25 from a Dalton, Ga., road gang.

A spokesman said 100,000 wanted posters are being distributed in an effort to hasten his capture. Edwards, the FBI said, was convicted for the 1947 murder of a Georgia state policeman and sentenced to life imprisonment.

The FBI describes Edwards as "extremely dangerous" and said he is armed with a shotgun and a .38-calibre police revolver.

Federal agents believed the killer is trying to get to Murfreesboro, Tenn., in an attempt to free a brother, Harry, charged with killing his father-in-law.

Edwards was last seen Wednesday night in the vicinity of Birmingham, Ala., after he had forced three teen-age youths at gunpoint to drive him to the city. He left the youths when their car developed trouble.

The three boys told police they saw him flag a passing car as he left them and that the brake lights of the car went on as Edwards, on foot, and the car rounded a corner out of sight.

Nixon Assures U.S. Support

BERLIN (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon Friday assured West Berlin of "undiminished American support" against the threat of a Communist putsch. Four U.S. congressmen flew into the city to demonstrate American determination to remain in the Western outpost.

Communist East German leaders from Premier Otto Grotewohl down renewed their campaign of threats and pleas to try to force out the West on the basis of Russia's plan to turn the three Western sectors of Berlin into a "free city" within six months, with Allied withdrawal.

West Berlin leaders demanded the United States, Britain and France save the free sectors, by force if necessary.

Nixon sent a cable to West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt hailing West Berlin as a "great free city."

"I as well as other members of the U.S. government are following the development with intense attention, and I want to assure you in these difficult times that may lie before you of the undiminished American support of Berlin," Nixon said.

U.S. Congressmen Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio), Isidore Doolinger (D-N.Y.) and Frank E. Smith (D-Miss.) flew in from London for a four-hour visit and assured Brandt they were behind him.

"We have right of access to Berlin and we should insist upon it," Hays said. "One thing the Communists respect is force. We should take a strong position and not retreat from it."

Rep. Karl Le Compte (R-Iowa) also flew in. Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) already has been in Berlin for two days.

Hays, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, told Brandt "we won't allow Khrushchev to nibble away the freedoms of this city."

In Bonn, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer rejected the proposals by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev to make West Berlin a "free city" because its security could not be guaranteed.

Adenauer told leaders of his Christian Democrat Party that the Soviet plan for Berlin would leave the city less secure than it is now, with 7,500 American, British and French troops garrisoned.

Says Russia Is Against A Strong U.N.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A State Department official said Friday night Russia opposes strengthening the United Nations because that might "thwart Communist aggression."

Francis O. Wilcox, assistant secretary of state for international organization affairs, said in a speech prepared for the National Council for the Social Studies and the World Affairs Council of Northern California.

"The truth is the U.S.S.R. does not want a strong or an effective United Nations. . . .

"A stronger United Nations would strengthen the ability of the free world to tranquilize situations which the Soviet orbit has historically sought to exploit."

Wilcox said the Russian attitude toward the U.N. "has been one of open hostility or, at best, grudging acquiescence," and he added: "They have been unwilling to strengthen the fabric of the United Nations collective security system since a stronger United Nations would either thwart Communist aggression or at least make it more costly."

Chester Stringer, head of the arson department of the State Crime Bureau, said burned matches were found around a trash basket in the kitchen.

He said the boy—Lee Wilhelm, about 6 years old—apparently set the fire accidentally, his clothing caught fire and he ran upstairs.

The boy was one of five who died as flames gutted the two-story brick house.

Zale's Jewelry To Open Today

A formal ribbon cutting ceremony set for 9 a.m. today will open Monroe's newest jewelry store, located at the corner of DeSiard and St. John streets.

Present for the formalities of the Zale Jewelry Store opening will be Mayors W. L. "Jack" Howard and J. Allan Norris of Monroe and West Monroe.

Also on hand for the event at 200 DeSiard Street will be officials from the company's executive offices in Dallas, southern zone supervisor Mel Berns and Jay Lebcowitz of Shreveport, district manager.

"We are delighted that Zale's buying power will make available to residents of the northeast Louisiana area quality merchandise at economical prices," Robert Kahn, manager of the new Zale's outlet said.

Mel Berns, vice-president and supervisor of Zale's southern zone, has jurisdiction over operations of more than 30 Zale's jewelry stores in six southern states.

A veteran of more than 20 years in the jewelry business, Berns joined Zale's in 1940 in a sales capacity and has advanced through assistant manager, store manager, and district manager to his present position.

Berns' area extends from Columbus, Ga., in the east to Midland, Tex., in the west and includes stores in the states of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia.

Berns' headquarters are in San Antonio.

Buying offices for the 108 Zale's stores, located in 21 states, are maintained in Dallas, New York City, and overseas. Diamonds are purchased from the World Syndicate in London with the entire cutting, polishing, and setting processes controlled by Zale's to insure greatest brilliance and beauty at the lowest cost to the consumer.

A native of Louisiana, Kahn returns to his home state from Oklahoma City where he was most recently manager of Zale's Capitol Hill store.

The new building, leased by Zale's from Ida Kaplan, was designed by L. Milton King, Monroe architect, and built by Lamar Moore, general contractor.

A corner three-story location, the building is faced in buff brick, with recessed display area including windows trimmed in aluminum and banked above and below in silvery serpentine marble.

The entryway is floored by terrazzo and leads into a 2,000-square-foot ground floor retail shopping area offering many of the latest features in merchandising design. Interior decor is in subdued tones accented by bright color at a variety of focal points, with a back wall of exposed brick for further contrast. Recessed lighting affords diffused illumination with pinpoint spots available above specific sales areas. The ceiling is of fibre glass acoustical tile.

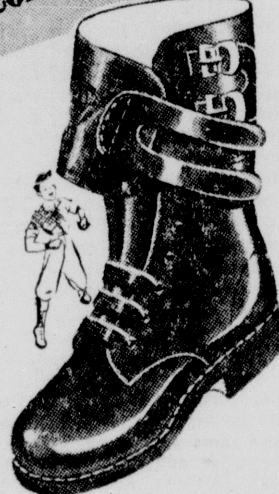

The watch repair department's take-in counter is in the rear of the new store with a complete repair department sharing the mezzanine with the optical department.

Likes Little Rock

A once-caustic Japanese critic of the United States has changed his opinion on the question of integration, on the situation in Little Rock and on the south's segregation position. He no longer believes the Negroes' demand for integration is completely justified nor does he think Little Rock is mistreating the Negroes, as he believed before visiting that city.

Ashihei Hino, Japanese novelist just returned to Tokyo from a two-month trip to the United States, said he saw the status of the Negroes in a different light after making the trip.

In an article in the newspaper Tokyo Shimbun, Hino said the Negro, "if he demands outright equality without improving his own record for crime, ignorance and uncleanness, is bound to fail."

Hino had charged in previous writings that the United States mistreated "our brothers and sisters in Okinawa." He also had made previous trips to the Soviet Union, Communist China and North Korea. His books and articles on Communist nations are more critical of them than his Tokyo Shimbun article was of the United States.

Writing of his trip to this country, he said:

"I visited Little Rock, Ark., with a preconception mixed with dread. I had thought it was a fearsome place of bigotry where poor Negroes were ruthlessly persecuted by the whites.

"I found out quickly my preconception was completely wrong. White and colored were living together in harmony.

"Facilities for the Negroes were as good as those in New York, Boston and Chicago I had seen earlier.

"Now I know it is wrong to consider the Little Rock school incident as a peak of the Negro problem. It is indeed far more complex and deep-rooted."

The change in views experienced by Hino is typical of those of others who have criticized the Negro situation in the south and then have changed their mind after visiting the south to witness its "mistreatment" of the Negroes. Most people who move from the north into the south soon find themselves in accord with the south's views. They learn, to their surprise, that the mistreatment of which they have heard so much does not exist.

Hino reported finding in Little Rock "a typical example of the separate but equal policy of the south."

From the time of the freeing of the slaves until the 1954 ruling of the United States supreme court it had been admitted that the white and Negro people could live together in peace and harmony without social mixing. Former supreme courts had upheld the "separate but equal" policy.

It is surely a fact that the whites and Negroes live as harmoniously together in Little Rock as in New York, Boston and Chicago. In Little Rock the Negroes hold the teaching positions in their own schools. They do not have to compete with white teachers for these positions.

If there is any disgrace in the Little Rock situation it is not on the heads of the people of Little Rock nor the south but upon those of the U. S. supreme court and the federal government.

Inventor Kettering

Farmers generally may not realize the full extent of the inventive genius of Charles F. Kettering, who died a few days ago at the age of 82 but many of the old-timers remember the invention which enabled them to discard the flutering candle, the old kerosene lamp and the lantern as means of finding their way around at night.

It was the Delco electric lighting system perfected by Mr. Kettering which enabled farmers to place lights in each room of their homes, in their barns and at convenient places in their sheds, yards and barnyards. Mr. Kettering was the first man to bring the farmers out of the darkness into the light at night.

Farm electrification has become so common these days through government rural electrification programs and big extension campaigns by the private power companies that electric lights and power are as common on the farm as in the city and no one thinks much about it.

Long before the power companies were able to extend their lines into the rural areas, however, Mr. Kettering made farm electricity possible. He devised a system for hooking up a gasoline motor to a series of storage batteries. The batteries were thus kept charged and delivered the power needed for lighting the farms. The farmer had no electric bills to pay but had to keep his motor and batteries in good condition.

The great engineer held patents on 140 of his own inventions, as well as many patents on improvements to other inventions.

Perhaps none of his inventions brought greater comfort and protection to drivers than the electric starter for automobiles. Before the electric starter was put on cars the drivers were obliged to crank the machines by hand. Many arms were broken by kicking cranks and often the job of trying to crank a balky motor by hand was almost heart-breaking.

Even those who did not know Mr. Kettering as the great inventor that he was enjoyed many benefits that resulted from his unending search to improve ways of doing things.

CHARLES O. GRIDLEY

Thanksgiving, Christmas Big American Festivals

Thanksgiving, observed since colonial days, rivals Christmas as a great American festival. It is comforting to think that this year as always there was plenty to be thankful for. Perhaps that is the reason that this, of all countries, sets aside a special day by presidential proclamation to offer gratitude for the favors which providence has conferred upon us.

The Pilgrims began it in 1621 after their first bountiful harvest. With few minor lapses for reasons which have now become obscure, the day of Thanksgiving continued under various authorities for 168 years until George Washington became the first President to appoint the last Thursday of the month as the occasion of the traditional observance.

Without any intent to sermonize, it may be pointed out that the original purpose of Thanksgiving was to express thanks for the past and hope for the future, and so families assembled for reunions, large dinners and general enjoyment. Such economic facts as the declining value of the dollar, and the increased cost of living are forgotten at such a time. Rather this year, if there need be any cause for special Thanksgiving, it is that the U. S. has a new state for the first time in 46 years, with new opportunity for hardy Americans, who are reminded that the last frontier has not yet been reached.

Fewer than 300,000 Alaskans voted in the first state election on Tuesday, which makes the newest commonwealth the smallest in voting strength and the largest in size. That serves to emphasize the room for development remaining within the biggest state where thousands of acres of tillable land and billions of dollars in undeveloped resources tempt those who are willing to take the chance and can stand the climate.

Any country which can carry a national debt of 280 billions and support a population pressing 180 million without strain, and still have a backlog of resources estimated as ample for many years of development, not only has great cause for Thanksgiving but seemingly a secure future.

In Washington, however, there are scientists and economists who, while joining in this Thanksgiving wholeheartedly wonder how many more Thanksgivings will afford the same grounds for rejoicing. The early settlers gave thanks not only because they had plenty to live on, but also because their money was sound, their debts were nominal and they were safe from attack from all enemies, foreign and domestic.

Today good reason exists for concern on all three grounds. The dollar is nominally sound but inflation has affected its purchasing value at home and abroad; U. S. expenditures exceed income and the little prospect exists that the national debt can be reduced in the near future; and how safe we are against foreign attack seems to depend upon the estimates of various military experts, who differ widely in their opinion.

Huge domestic subsidies for agriculture, transportation, a vast pension load and a staggering military budget should demand the attention of every American, and not only of government heads in Washington. Fiscal experts are frankly concerned lest the value of the American dollar, as a result of increasing federal debt decline to a point where an internal financial collapse, such as has brought European countries to the brink of ruin could so weaken the nation that Communist pressure from within and without would be

2 Recognition Problems Faced By United States

The United States is now faced does not recognize a country does not mean that there is no inter- course between the two countries. The so-called Quonoy question arises out of the demand by Red China for recognition; the East German situation is a demand Russia did not recognize Soviet recognition. It is not necessary for one state to recognize another, had communications and there consult others concerning recogni- tion of a new state or a new gov- ernment. As Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes once said, 'The question of the recogni- tion of a foreign government is purely a domestic one for the United States.' The President of the United States usually recognizes a new State or a belligerent state. Thanksgiving Day Is 'Too Perfect'

NEW YORK (AP)—A Thanksgiving table

Everything went right from the start. It was almost too perfect.

When Marybelle suggested, "I'd like to have my brothers and their families over for Thanksgiving," Jim, her husband, didn't argue at all. He said right away, "Why, honey, what a splendid idea."

And when Jim brought home the turkey it turned out to be, for the first time in their wedded life, just the right size for the oven.

And when her folks arrived, Roscoe, the older stingy brother, brought a big bouquet. Russell, the younger brother who had learned from Roscoe how to be a tightwad and then gone on to improve the art himself, showed up with two bottles of fine wine.

And while the dinner was cooking, Roscoe and Russell asked Jim his political views instead of giving theirs, and Roscoe remarked, "I'll say one thing, Jim. When our sister finally landed you, she certainly brought some real class into the family."

And Marybelle's nine nephews and nieces all played contentedly together in the den, and none cried, and none broke anything.

And when everybody sat down at the table and the wives of Roscoe and Russell saw the new silverware Jim had bought Marybelle as an anniversary present, they admired the pattern and weren't the least bit jealous. Not in the least.

And when Marybelle brought in the turkey it was done to a perfect golden brown—not a burned spot anywhere.

And Jim didn't grumble or feel the least bit nervous about carving. The knife was sharp as a razor. The turkey didn't crumble like a tired cookie, but peeled off in one magnificent slice after another.

And everybody got just the kind of meat he wanted. The stuffing was a mottled delight, the gravy came a threat to freedom. Dozens of experts who study these threats will testify they are no mere figment of the imagination. However the leadership to prevent them seems lacking. Plainly the problem is one in which somebody has to give up something if the budget balance is to be restored, regular debt retirement is to be reestablished, as it has not been since the 1920's, and new anchors against a real depression—not a mere recession—are to be thrown out.

a brown ecstasy, the cranberry cause a crimson thrill, and the pumpkin pie a tawny delight.

And, oh, the wine shed a rosy glow over all, and it was wonderful, wonderful all the way.

And Roscoe and Russell, protesting it had been a perfect day, waddled home early with their bulging wives and well-stuffed offspring.

Jim took off his shoes, and sank down happily in the sofa. Marybelle brought him his slippers, lit his cigar for him and murmured happily, "It sure was a lucky day for me when I first saw you."

And Jim murmured, "I must be dreaming all this."

When Marybelle mentioned it was time for her to go out and do the dishes and Jim insisted he wanted to get right up and help her, she said, "I must be dreaming all this too. Thanksgiving was never like this before."

And Jim said playfully, "Maybe we'd better pinch each other."

And they did pinch each other—and sure enough, they were dreaming.

It was 6 a.m., on Thanksgiving morning, and the day hadn't even begun.

Daily Devotion

Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's. — Mark 12:17.

There are those who try to convince themselves that the state can take the place of the church and of God. They argue that they pay their taxes and are therefore exempt from giving to the church and to worthy civic causes. Christ made it clear that man cannot evade his obligation to God and to his fellowmen, as long as there is need and want in the world. True, we must support government at all levels, but God's causes represent opportunity rather than obligation.

Almighty God, help us to willingly assume our share of Thy work through voluntary service to Thy children. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

Contest May Be Swindle Scheme

Question: Three weeks ago I received in the mail a letter from one of the jewelers in the city. Enclosed with the letter was a photograph of three rings, one necklace and one brooch. Also enclosed was a self-addressed card and instructions. The instructions informed me that this was a contest.

I was to count the diamonds illustrated and enter the number on the self-addressed card and return it to the jeweler. There was no need to buy anything, the letter said, just enter my estimate of the number of diamonds on the card and, if I guessed correctly, I would get a prize. The person coming closest to the correct answer would receive free a $500 diamond, then the second closest a $250 diamond and the third a $100 diamond. There were also ten consolation prizes of a $50 diamond.

I was delighted and excited when I was notified that I had won a $50 diamond. But imagine my anger and disappointment when I was shown a tiny little stone which the salesman said was a diamond, but which looked like a piece of glass to me. This stone was already in a setting and I was informed that I would have to pay $29.95 for the setting or I could not get the stone.

I was furious and had such an argument with the salesman that he tore up my entry card and letter notifying me I was a winner, and I came close to swatting him with my handbag.

After talking to my husband that night, he said I should have left the store quietly with all my correspondence and turned it over to our district attorney. He said that, since I had no evidence left, a prosecution could not be started. Is my husband right and, if so, what else can I do to stop this swindle?

ANSWER: Your husband is partially right. The evidence which you so understandably let get out of your hands would be necessary for your district attorney to develop a case. Nevertheless, I suggest you contact the post office inspectors, postmaster, city inspectors, postmaster in your city. They are familiar with this crooked operation and know it reappears.

DR. CRANE SAYS

Omission Sins Cause Divorce

Larry blames his wife for "sins of omission" as regards their sex life. And he has a lot of logic on his side, for most divorces start in the bedroom. And those supposedly innocent wives are often 50 per cent to blame when their mates get infatuated with girls at the office. Scrapbook this case and send for the sex booklet below.

Case Z—384: Larry W., aged 45, is the erring husband mentioned yesterday. Listen to his side of the marital problem:

"Dr. Crane," Larry began, "Irene thinks she is 100 per cent innocent and that I am entirely at fault because of this affair with a girl at my office."

"But Irene has been guilty of those sins of omission that you have talked about in your column."

"Oh, I freely admit she is a wonderful housekeeper and has certainly been a model mother for our children."

"But a man doesn't get married just for a housekeeper and mother in the house."

"It is romance and physical affection that causes the average fellow to pick a wife. And he expects her to realize that fact."

"Irene has rebuffed my ardent advances so many times that I have grown so angry I have actually felt like strangling her."

"After my initial ire wore off, I just grew disinterested in her and thus we shifted to twin beds and a rather platonic existence."

"The children seemed to preoccupy her full attention, and I think she has been quite content with this arrangement the past few years."

"But I haven't. If I had wished a platonic existence, I never would have married her in the first place."

Love Menu
Wives, please listen to Larry's logical complaint, for many of you are in the same boat with Irene, yet hardly dream of such a thing!

Get hep: While you wives are basically maternal creatures and can feel fairly content while depending your affection on your children, your husbands are not equally happy in such a semi-platonic situation.

A truly happy marriage can be compared to a well balanced dinner menu.

Men are noted for their fondness for meat and potatoes as the main item on the menu.

In matrimony, men look upon physical affection as the "meat and potatoes" of their erotic menu.

You wives may place a lot of stress on the so-called frills, such as your house and its furnishings, as well as your children, PTA and other obligations.

But never for one moment forget the meat and potatoes of your erotic menu!

For most divorces start in the bedroom. And are at least 50 per cent due to a wife's sins of omission.

Male Erotic Psychology
Men were created by God Almighty to demand far more gastric calories than women.

Wives can thus be content on 2,500 calories of food whereas their mates will probably demand 3,500 or even 4,000. And you wives admit that difference between the sexes.

In fact, you even tantalize your husbands with new recipes so they eat more than they need and thus tend to grow fat after the age of 30.

Well, God also made males to demand far more erotic nourishment than wives. I have often told you that Biblical Jacob thus had two wives, Rachel and Leah, plus their two handmaids.

Nowadays, monogamy is far superior to polygamy. But the normal male is geared to the demands of polygamy. He needs a small harem.

So a successful modern wife must function as a one-woman harem. And if she doesn't, like Irene, she unwittingly invites some other woman to poach on her territory!

So send for my booklet "Sex Differences between Men & Women," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). Use it to keep your marriage permanently happy.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Likes Little Rock

A once-caustic Japanese critic of the United States has changed his opinion on the question of integration, on the situation in Little Rock and on the south's segregation position. He no longer believes the Negroes' demand for integration is completely justified nor does he think Little Rock is mistreating the Negroes, as he believed before visiting that city.

Ashihei Hino, Japanese novelist just returned to Tokyo from a two-month trip to the United States, said he saw the status of the Negroes in a different light after making the trip.

In an article in the newspaper Tokyo Shimbun, Hino said the Negro, "if he demands outright equality without improving his own record for crime, ignorance and uncleanness, is bound to fail."

Hino had charged in previous writings that the United States mistreated "our brothers and sisters in Okinawa." He also had made previous trips to the Soviet Union, Communist China and North Korea. His books and articles on Communist nations are more critical of them than his Tokyo Shimbun article was of the United States.

Writing of his trip to this country, he said:

"I visited Little Rock, Ark., with a preconception mixed with dread. I had thought it was a fearsome place of bigotry where poor Negroes were ruthlessly persecuted by the whites.

"I found out quickly my preconception was completely wrong. White and colored were living together in harmony.

"Facilities for the Negroes were as good as those in New York, Boston and Chicago I had seen earlier.

"Now I know it is wrong to consider the Little Rock school incident as a peak of the Negro problem. It is indeed far more complex and deep-rooted."

The change in views experienced by Hino is typical of those of others who have criticized the Negro situation in the south and then have changed their mind after visiting the south to witness its "mistreatment" of the Negroes. Most people who move from the north into the south soon find themselves in accord with the south's views. They learn, to their surprise, that the mistreatment of which they have heard so much does not exist.

Hino reported finding in Little Rock "a typical example of the separate but equal policy of the south."

From the time of the freeing of the slaves until the 1954 ruling of the United States supreme court it had been admitted that the white and Negro people could live together in peace and harmony without social mixing. Former supreme courts had upheld the "separate but equal" policy.

It is surely a fact that the whites and Negroes live as harmoniously together in Little Rock as in New York, Boston and Chicago. In Little Rock the Negroes hold the teaching positions in their own schools. They do not have to compete with white teachers for these positions.

If there is any disgrace in the Little Rock situation it is not on the heads of the people of Little Rock nor the south but upon those of the U. S. supreme court and the federal government.

Inventor Kettering

Farmers generally may not realize the full extent of the inventive genius of Charles F. Kettering, who died a few days ago at the age of 82 but many of the old-timers remember the invention which enabled them to discard the flut-tering candle, the old kerosene lamp and the lantern as means of finding their way around at night.

It was the Delco electric lighting system perfected by Mr. Kettering which enabled farmers to place lights in each room of their homes, in their barns and at convenient places in their sheds, yards and barnyards. Mr. Kettering was the first man to bring the farmers out of the darkness into the light at night.

Farm electrification has become so common these days through government rural electrification programs and big extension campaigns by the private power companies that electric lights and power are as common on the farm as in the city and no one thinks much about it.

Long before the power companies were able to extend their lines into the rural areas, however, Mr. Kettering made farm electricity possible. He devised a system for hooking up a gasoline motor to a series of storage batteries. The batteries were thus kept charged and delivered the power needed for lighting the farms. The farmer had no electric bills to pay but had to keep his motor and batteries in good condition.

The great engineer held patents on 140 of his own inventions, as well as many patents on improvements to other inventions.

Perhaps none of his inventions brought greater comfort and protection to drivers than the electric starter for automobiles. Before the electric starter was put on cars the drivers were obliged to crank the machines by hand. Many arms were broken by kicking cranks and often the job of trying to crank a balky motor by hand was almost heart-breaking.

Even those who did not know Mr. Kettering as the great inventor that he was enjoyed many benefits that resulted from his unending search to improve ways of doing things.

Thanksgiving, Christmas
Big American Festivals

Thanksgiving, observed since colonial days, rivals Christmas as a great American festival. It is comforting to think that this year as always there was plenty to be thankful for. Perhaps that is the reason that this, of all countries, sets aside a special day by presidential proclamation to offer gratitude for the favors which providence has conferred upon us.

The Pilgrims began it in 1621 after their first bountiful harvest. With few minor lapses for reasons which have now become obscure, the day of Thanksgiving continued under various authorities for 168 years until George Washington became the first President to appoint the last Thursday of the month as the occasion of the traditional observance.

Without any intent to sermonize, it may be pointed out that the original purpose of Thanksgiving was to express thanks for the past and hope for the future, and so families assembled for reunions, large dinners and general enjoyment. Such economic facts as the declining value of the dollar, and the increased cost of living are forgotten at such a time. Rather this year, if there need be any cause for special Thanksgiving, it is that the U. S. has a new state for the first time in 46 years, with new opportunity for hardy Americans, who are reminded that the last frontier has not yet been reached.

Feathered 300,000 Alaskans voted in the first state election on Tuesday, which makes the newest commonwealth the smallest in voting strength and the largest in size. That serves to emphasize the room for development remaining within the biggest state where thousands of acres of tillable land and billions of dollars in undeveloped resources tempt those who are willing to take the chance and can stand the climate.

Any country which can carry a national debt of 280 billions and support a population pressing 180 million without strain, and still have a backlog of resources estimated as ample for many years of development, not only has great cause for Thanksgiving but seemingly a secure future.

In Washington, however, there are scientists and economists who, while joining in this Thanksgiving wholeheartedly wonder how many more Thanksgivings will afford the same grounds for rejoicing. The early settlers gave thanks not only because they had plenty to live on, but also because their money was sound, their debts were nominal and they were safe from attack from all enemies, foreign and domestic.

Today good reason exists for concern on all three grounds. The dollar is nominally sound but inflation has affected its purchasing value at home and abroad; U. S. expenditures exceed income and little prospect exists that the national debt can be reduced in the near future; and how safe we are against foreign attack seems to depend upon the estimates of various military experts, who differ widely in their opinion.

2 Recognition Problems
Faced By United States

The United States is now faced by two problems of recognition: the so-called Quemoy question arises out of the demand by Red China for recognition; the East Germany situation is a demand for recognition. It is not necessary for one state to recognize another, had communications and there it is not necessary for one state to consult others concerning recognition of a new state or a new government. As Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes once said, "... The question of the recognition of a foreign government is purely a domestic one for the United States ..."

The fact that the United States does not recognize a country does not mean that there is no intercourse between the two countries. The relations may be of a limited nature. For instance, the United States did not recognize Soviet Russia from 1917 to 1933, but they had communications and there it is not necessary for one state to consult others concerning recognition of a new state or a new government. As Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes once said, "... The question of the recognition of a foreign government is purely a domestic one for the United States ..."

which must be ratified by the Senate and is subject to public discussion in the Senate. There is no constitutional method by which the United States may have a secret treaty, although Franklin D. Roosevelt and his successors got around that by entering upon a series of executive agreements, some of which were of constitutional dubiousness. To correct this unfortunate habit of the Chief Executive, the Bricker amendment was proposed but it never reached consummation.

Question: Three weeks ago I received in the mail a letter from one of the jewelers in this city. Enclosed with the letter was a photograph of three rings, one necklace and one brooch. Also enclosed was a self-addressed card and instructions. The instructions informed me that this was a contest.

I was to count the diamonds illustrated and enter the number on the self-addressed card and return it to the jeweler. There were also ten consolation prizes of a $50 diamond.

I was delighted and excited when I was notified that I had won a $50 diamond. But imagine my anger and disappointment when I was shown a tiny little stone which the salesman said was a diamond, but which looked like a piece of glass to me. This stone was already in a setting and I was informed that I would have to pay $29.95 for the setting or I could not get the stone.

I was furious and had such an argument with the salesman that he tore up my entry card and letter notifying me I was a winner, and I came close to swatting him with my handbag.

After talking to my husband that night, he said I should have left the store quietly with all my correspondence and turned it over to our district attorney. He said that, since I had no evidence left, a prosecution could not be started. Is my husband right and, if so, what else can I do to stop this swindle?

ANSWER: Your husband is partially right. The evidence which you so understandably left got out of your hands would be necessary for your district attorney to develop a case. ing this "swindler" to justice. The writer, in conjunction with the postal authorities and with the cooperation of the Jewelers Vigilance Committee, had the pleasure of successfully helping to convict the operators of a similar swindle.

This case started from a single complaint similar to yours. Realizing that the surrounding neighborhood had been blanketed with comparable letters, I found it not too hard to locate five persons who had not returned their entry cards and who were willing enough to let me have them and to agree to turn over any future correspondence to me. I purpose sent in five different, wrong answers. Each of the five persons won a $50 diamond and gave us the jeweler's letter notifying him of this fact.

Believe Me, Dear

MY DARLING, you are wonderful... Believe when I say... I love make the sun more brilliant and... The moon and stars more bright... With every new good morning and... With every sweet good night... You are the angel of my dreams... Wherever I may go... The only one on whom my love... Forever I bestow... Believe me, I am yours alone... To have and always hold... And you are much more precious than... All silver and all gold... I only hope that I can mean... As much to you, my dear... At least, believe me when I say... My love is real sincere.

Passman Tries To Rally Solons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Otto Passman (D - La.) of the House Foreign Aid Appropriations subcommittee tried Friday to rally new members of the 86th Congress behind his fight to hold down foreign aid spending.

In a letter to the new congressmen, Passman said the "propaganda for fantastic amounts for foreign aid" in the coming session "may equal all the pressures you will be subjected to on all issues combined."

"If history repeats itself," he said, "the propaganda and pressures will again be unprecedented."

In another letter to Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon, Passman struck back at Republican charges Democrats are "spenders and wasters." He said the Democratic sweep in the recent elections should show the voters "are not buying the administration's propaganda."

He told Dillon specifically he personally disapproved of the administration's plan to transfer $3,300,000 from President Eisenhower's emergency fund to the budget for the U.S. cultural exhibit at a Moscow fair next summer.

"Can we as Americans not stop this monkey business of trying to judge every little item that pops up during the recess of Congress as an emergency and stop building molehills into mountains?" he asked Dillon.

In obvious reference to the GOP campaign exchanges, he added: "At least that shall be my course and I trust that I shall not be numbered among the spenders and wasters."

Although Passman did not mention the fact in his letter to new House members, there have been reports the administration plans to ask Congress for an increase of about a billion dollars in new funds for foreign economic and military aid program next year.

Congress this year appropriated $3,300,000,000 for the program in the current fiscal year, which ends June 30. This total represented a cut of about 600 million below the President's request.

The program for next year now is under review by the Budget Bureau. As drafted by the various government agencies involved tentative plans call for new cash requests ranging between $4,200,000,000 and $4,300,000,000 in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Gibbs Stands Behind Plans For Appealing

Rep. Lawrence Gibbs of Monroe said yesterday he would "stand firmly behind" Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion who plans to appeal the federal decision partly blocking Louisiana's sports segregation law.

Gibbs, who sponsored the bill enacting the law, termed the federal ruling at New Orleans "just another case of federal neglect of local government and an indication that the high-handed philosophies of the U.S. Supreme Court are infiltrating the lower federal tribunals in the South."

"They may upset, ban and prohibit any form of segregation in Louisiana but no action can change our firm convictions," Gibbs declared.

Gibbs said he had authored and supported the sports segregation measure in belief that it was to the best advantage of the people of Louisiana. "My belief was overwhelmingly supported by the reaction of the public," Gibbs said.

The measure breezed through the legislature unopposed and the people later indicated they favored its provisions, 5 to 1.

FPC Notifies Gas Producers Of Deadline

WASHINGTON (Special) — The Federal Power Commission notified gas producers Friday that they have until December 31 to file petitions for rate changes as a result of the increased Louisiana severance tax. The higher severance tax was signed into law by Gov. Earl Long Nov. 17. Following a special session of the Legislature, it raises the tax from two cents to 2.3 cents a thousand feet from Dec. 1, 1958 to July 31, 1960. The FPC said that the applications for rate increase may be filed even though the agency has not issued any order governing the filing, usual FPC procedure in such cases.

It added, however, that appropriate waivers of the required statutory notice will be granted when the filing order is issued. No date for issuance of its order has been set by the FPC.

Watermain Work Here Delayed By Rain And Cold

French L. Smith, Utilities Commission, yesterday said the Park Avenue watermain project would be resumed "as soon as the weather permits."

Work was stalled yesterday by the rains and cold temperatures. There was no work on the project on Thanksgiving Day.

A ditch in the center of the street is being refilled with concrete. Traffic on the street has been handicapped during the past several weeks because of the ditch.

The Utilities Commission, through a contract with Arthur Bros., installed a 18-inch watermain from Bayou Desiard to the pumping plant. To do so, the ditch was cut through several blocks of Park Avenue.

Street Commissioner W. D. H. Rodriguez raised a protest over the contract terms and in a statement Wednesday washed his hands of the job, warning it would some day cost the city "thousands of dollars."

Workers began pouring concrete early in the week and at that time it was hoped the job would be completed by today, weather permitting.

Santa Claus Not Equipped

NEWTON, N.J. (AP) — Modern-day Santa Claus aren't equipped for white Christmases, it seems.

More than 400 youngsters gathered Friday in Memory Park where a department store Santa was to land to distribute gifts. They waited for hours in gently falling snow, and most of them finally went home.

When Santa arrived, only a handful of children were on hand to greet him. The reason, for the delay — the helicopter scheduled for the trip was held up by the snow.

Arraignments Held In District Court

Four youths arrested on charges of attempted murder at Black Bayou Wednesday were arraigned on reduced charges — aggravated assault — in Fourth District Court yesterday.

Judge Jesse Heard presided as Doyle Crosswell, 18, of 708 Forrest Ave., Donald Ray, 19, of 1010 Keller St., Leland Pierce, 19, of 646 E. Cypress St., all of Bastrop and Doyle West, 18, 605 W. Second St., Pine Bluff, Ark., denied guilt.

Trial for all four was set for Jan. 30, 1959.

Also arrested on charges of "shooting up" the residence and boat dock of Bill Minor on Black Bayou were Charles Hayman, 18, 120 Parkherst, and Charles Dupree, 18, both of Bastrop, and an unidentified juvenile, who is being held in the parish detention home.

Hayman and Dupree have been released on bond and were not present for yesterday's arraignment.

Among other cases, two men charged with jumping ball bond were arraigned on the felony charge.

TRIAL SET

John Earl Lambert and Jesse Dean Odom each maintained innocence, and trial for both was set for Feb. 17, 1959.

Lambert failed to appear for trial on charges of simple burglary, and Odom was absent when his trial on forgery charges was scheduled in court.

Percy Clark and Evelyn I. Ellis, each charged with theft of $15.00, denied guilt and trial was set for Feb. 12.

Juanita Heath, charged with issuing a worthless check for $25, failed to appear for arraignment and was called on bond.

Nelson Fite, arraigned on a charge of theft of an auto valued at $3,500 will be tried on Feb. 16.

Among 14 cases scheduled for trial, six were continued, two were dropped and one person was called on bond.

Pleading guilty were: James W. Cruse, fined $300 or 90 days in the Ouachita Parish jail on charges of driving while intoxicated. Also admitting driving while intoxicated, and receiving the same sentence were James Colton, Les Winslow, Henry D. Williamson and Frank L. Springer.

Charges of driving without a license, against Cruse, were dropped.

John L. Ford admitted driving with defective brakes and was fined $25 or 10 days. Charges of

AIRLINE STRIKE Court's Order Removes Hurdle

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A federal court order Friday removed a major hurdle in the five-day Eastern Air Lines shutdown but union leaders said the strike would continue over other issues.

Judge Emmett C. Choate ruled that the International Flight Engineers Assn. could not base its strike on opposition to requirements they be pilot-qualified on jet airliners.

Jack Robertson, head of the flight engineers union, said the strike would continue over demands for higher wages and better working conditions.

"The picket lines won't be pulled down until we get a satisfactory settlement of these other issues," he said.

S. L. Shannon, senior vice president of Eastern, the nation's largest civilian carrier, issued this statement:

"Judge Choate's decision makes it crystal clear that the company has not only the right but duty as well to set the qualifications of its employees."

"We trust with this matter removed from the dispute, that the Flight Engineers will come forward and complete a working agreement with the company without further delay, thus ending this unfortunate situation."

Referenda Rice Crop Is Set For Dec. 15

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department Friday called a grower referendum for Dec. 15 on extension of federal marketing quotas to cover the 1959 rice crop.

Approval by at least two-thirds of the growers voting will be required to make the quotas operative. They have been in effect on this crop since 1955. They are designed to help prevent overproduction.

The department also announced that next year's crop will be supported at 75 per cent of parity, the minimum permitted under the flexible price support system. Supports must be between 75 and 90 per cent of parity under this program.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them. The actual dollar-and-cents support rates will be set later. This year's rate is $4.48 a hundred pounds.

Rice is grown principally in Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas and California.

Sounds Alert Of N. J. Fire

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Little Kevin Ryan, only 5 years old, saw smoke billowing from the basement of the apartment house where he lives Friday.

In a moment he was ringing doorbells to alert the tenants of the four-story brick building. One of the first apartments was that of Mrs. John Capuzzo. She telephoned the Fire Department while Kevin went on ringing.

Firemen arrived and put out the fire as the 16 families alerted by Kevin poured out into the street. Damage was confined to the basement and the tenants moved back in.

Auto Thief Is Sent To Prison To Read, Write

NEW YORK (AP) — A 17-year-old auto thief was sent to prison Friday on his lawyer's plea that it was the only place that could teach him to read and write. The judge called it a shocking situation.

Attorney Thoms P. Lentini said the youth, George Jarvis of Brooklyn, had gone as far as the ninth grade in the public schools without learning to write anything beyond his name.

Lentini said the boy's illiteracy contributed to a delinquency record which includes two arrests for burglary and a term in the New York State Training School for Boys.

Brooklyn Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz, sentenced Jarvis to an indefinite term of up to five years and declared: "It's a shocking situation when a judge is asked by a defendant's attorney to send the youth to jail so he can learn to read and write. Here's another tragic example of the illiteracy of so many of the students who are pushed along, promoted year after year, without learning the rudiments of the three Rs."

Screen Writer's Wife Looses Her Court Fight

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Screen writer Martin Ragaway's wife lost her fight Friday to have him evicted from their Beverly Hills home pending trial of her divorce action.

Superior Court Judge Orlando H. Rhodes ruled Ragaway may continue to occupy his quarters but he issued a restraining order to prevent him and his wife, Donna Jo, from annoying or molesting each other.

"I'm terrified of him," Mrs. Ragaway told the court. "He has threatened to shoot me and our daughter Jill."

"I've never owned a gun," Ragaway countered. "That's just a figment of her imagination."

Ragaway was ordered by the court to continue payments of $300 a month for the psychiatric treatment his wife has been receiving since last May, and he will pay her $350 monthly for food, clothing and household expenses.

This was disclosed Friday as Superior Court ordered a final distribution of his estate. The son, John, lives with his mother in Hammond, Ind.

The boy has a suit for $500,000 pending against Miss Turner and restaurant owner Steve Crane.

Miss Turner's daughter by Crane said she stabbed Stompanato when he threatened her mother.

Yule Mailing Suggestions Given Here

Monroe Postmaster Woodrow W. Hathorn yesterday gave some helpful suggestions on Christmas mailing.

"Packages sealed with strong cord and heavy tape hold up best in transit," the Postmaster mentioned.

Combination mail allows the sender of a package to enclose a letter or message, simply by adding the correct letter postage to the package, plus the parcel's own postage.

Certified mail, a new service, allows senders to receive proof of delivery of a card or letter for a fee of 20 cents plus regular postage. Registered mail, costing slightly more, should be used for letters and packages, carrying items of financial value.

Hathorn also mentioned special delivery, air mail and air parcel post as methods of speeding delivery of cards and packages, and said that all packages should be insured.

He urged the use of postal zone delivery numbers with addresses, and asked that area residents separate cards into local and out-of-town groups and tie all their cards into stacks with the addresses facing one way.

"Free labels for local and out-of-town bundles are available at the Post Office, along with the free pamphlet 'Packaging and Wrapping Parcels For Mailing,'" Hathorn added.

TRIAL DATES SET Arraignments Held In District Court

Four youths arrested on charges of attempted murder at Black Bayou Wednesday were arraigned on reduced charges — aggravated assault — in Fourth District Court yesterday.

Judge Jesse Heard presided as Doyle Crosswell, 18, of 708 Forrest Ave., Donald Ray, 19, of 1010 Keller St., Leland Pierce, 19, of 646 E. Cypress St., all of Bastrop, and Doyle West, 18, 605 W. Second St., Pine Bluff, Ark., denied guilt.

Trial for all four was set for Jan. 30, 1960.

Also arrested on charges of "shooting up" the residence and boat dock of Bill Minor on Black Bayou were Charles Hayman, 18, 120 Parkhurst, and Charles Dupree, 18, both of Bastrop, and an unidentified juvenile, who is being held in the parish detention home. AIRLINE STRIKE

Court's Order Removes Hurdle

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A federal court order Friday removed a major hurdle in the five-day Eastern Air Lines shutdown but union leaders said the strike would continue over other issues.

Judge Emmett C. Choate ruled that the International Flight Engineers Assn. could not base its strike on opposition to requirements they be pilot-qualified on jet airliners.

Jack Robertson, head of the flight engineers union, said the strike would continue over demands for higher wages and better working conditions.

"The picket lines won't be pulled down until we get a satisfactory settlement of these other issues," he said.

"We trust with this matter removed from the dispute, that the Flight Engineers will come forward and complete a working agreement with the company without further delay, thus ending this unfortunate situation."

George Brown, spokesman for the International Assn. of Machinists, said his union will continue its strike against Eastern.

"Our strike has no connection with the International Flight Engineers Assn.," said Brown. "It is not a sympathy strike and Judge Choate's decision in the flight engineers' case has no bearing on us."

The machinists are seeking higher wages and other benefits.

In his ruling, Judge Choate said qualifications of flight personnel were "the prerogative of management."

He did not rule on Eastern's petition for five million dollars damage, plus one million for each day the walkout continues.

Involved in the strike are 6,000 machinists and 600 engineers, half of whom are based in Miami. Almost all of Eastern's 17,000 employees have been idled by the walkout.

Yule Mailing Suggestions Given Here

Monroe Postmaster Woodrow W. Hathorn yesterday gave some helpful suggestions on Christmas mailing.

"Packages sealed with strong cord and heavy tape hold up best in transit," the Postmaster mentioned.

Combination mail allows the sender of a package to enclose a letter or message, simply by adding the correct letter postage to the package, plus the parcel's own postage.

Certified mail, a new service, allows senders to receive proof of delivery of a card or letter for a fee of 20 cents plus regular postage. Registered mail, costing slightly more, should be used for letters and packages, carrying items of financial value.

Hathorn also mentioned special delivery, air mail and air parcel post as methods of speeding delivery of cards and packages, and said that all packages should be insured.

He urged the use of postal zone delivery numbers with addresses, and asked that area residents separate cards into local and out-of-town groups and tie all their cards into stacks with the addresses facing one way.

"Free labels for local and out-of-town bundles are available at the Post Office, along with the free pamphlet, 'Packaging and Wrapping Parcels For Mailing,'" Hathorn added.

Archbishop Says 180 Clergymen Died In China

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Roman Catholic archbishop who has spent 30 years among the Chinese said Friday that about 180 foreign clergymen have been killed or died in Chinese Communist jails.

Archbishop Pretonius Lachio, 57, an Italian, said that more than 300 Chinese priests and clergymen have met the same fate.

He held a news conference here while en route back to Formosa after visiting France and Italy to recruit missionaries.

Archbishop Lachio would favor letting U.S. newsmen enter Red China if they could serve a useful purpose. But under present conditions, he said, they could not be very useful since they would not be free to roam as they wished, and to obtain the truth from the people.

He said bringing Communist China into the United Nations or U.S. recognition of the Peiping regime, would be disheartening to free Chinese everywhere.

Likewise, he said, withdrawal of Chinese Nationalists from Quemoy and Matsu, and abandonment of U.S. interests in these offshore islands, would be "a terrible disappointment" for the free Chinese.

TV Programming Hearing Slated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney "D-Okla." said Friday Senate Commerce Committee hearings planned for January will go into the effects of the ratings on TV programming.

The senator said hearings last summer established how the various rating services operate.

The committee now is interested in such questions as whether a high rating for a particular program may lead to monopoly in programming by causing all networks to stampede to the same type of show, he said.

The January hearings probably will be held in New York, Monroney said. He is a member of the committee and presided at some of the sessions held last summer.

Alaska's 1st Senate Prexy Is Discussed

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—An Indian merchant or an Eskimo carpenter may become president of Alaska's first State Senate.

The two, both Democrats, are veterans of lawmaking sessions and one of them—Frank Peratrovich—served as president of the Territorial Senate in 1949.

The two contenders will be among eight Alaska natives who will be serving in the 40-member Legislature when it convenes in January.

Peratrovich, 62, operator of a general store and former mayor of the southeastern Alaska Indian village of Klawock, was vice president of the convention that drafted the Alaska state constitution in 1955 and 1956.

The president of the Constitutional Convention was another merchant and storekeeper, Alaska's Democratic Gov.-elect William Egan of Valdez.

Peratrovich will share strong party support for the high legislative post with William E. Belz, 45, a carpenter and union official from Unalakleet, a village in far northwestern Alaska.

Belz, an Eskimo, was in the running for the presidency of the last Territorial Senate in 1957. The Democratic caucus that picked the officers, however, elected Vic Rivers of Anchorage as president.

Rivers made an unsuccessful bid for the Democratic nomination as governor in an August Alaska primary and was not a candidate for election to the Legislature in 1957 for a four-year term. He was re-elected to the Senate in 1957 after completion of the Constitutional Convention.

Belz served in the House in 1947 and 1949, and entered the Senate in 1951—where he has served continuously since.

Democrats will have complete control of both the 20-member State Senate and the 40-member House. On the basis of returns still being compiled, it appears that Republicans will hold no more than five seats—and possibly less—in the new Legislature.

It could be that next in line will be the president of the Senate.

Peratrovich began his lawmaking career as a member of the 1945 territorial House of Representatives. He moved to the Senate in 1947 for a four-year term.

One of the tasks of the first Legislature will be the enactment of a succession law. It will set out the list of officials in line for the governorship in the event of death or incapacitation of the elected governor and his immediate successor, the secretary of state.

3 New Charters, One Dissolution Notice Are Filed

Final rites for Homer Todd, 58-year-old livestock man and rodeo producer, will be conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Ft. Smith Baptist Church.

He was well known in North Louisiana and for many years produced and supplied rodeo stock for West Monroe's annual championship rodeo.

He died unexpectedly at his Ft. Smith home Thursday. Mr. Todd was a member of the Cowboy Hall of Fame and of the Rodeo Cowboy's Association of America.

Surviving are his widow; a brother, George Todd, and six sisters.

ON UNDERPASS PLANS

Monroe And State Officials To Meet

A meeting with the State Department of Highways has been arranged by Monroe city officials to discuss plans for the construction of two underpasses.

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard said yesterday that the meeting has been set for Wednesday at 10 a.m. on Route 2.

Traffic surveys will be taken up in the discussion of the underpass locations, Howard said.

Meanwhile, Howard said that terms in a contract with Ford, Bacon and Davis to handle the engineering for the program have been agreed upon.

But attorneys are still preparing the contract and Howard said it would be several days before the pact was signed.

Ford, Bacon and Davis will engineer projects called for in the capital improvement program, such as drainage and sewerage.

The engineers also will supervise the jobs, it has been stipulated in past conferences between city officials and representatives of the firm.

With hopes that the highway department will assist in the construction of two underpasses, Howard said a Monroe delegation has set a meeting with state engineers in Baton Rouge.

"Their department has numerous traffic studies," he explained. "We'll go into conference with them to discuss the details in locating the underpasses."

Present plans call for locating the underpasses at the railroads on North Fourth and South Second, but officials pointed out, during the election campaign, that the final locations would be selected on the basis of engineering studies.

"The purpose of our Baton Rouge trip is to consider these studies," Howard said.

Director R. B. Richardson, according to Citizens Committee Chairman R. L. Vanderpool Jr., indicated several months ago the highway department would assist in financing the underpasses.

However, finances will not be discussed at the Wednesday meeting, according to the mayor. He said Richardson was out of town.

"That'll be brought up at a later date," Howard explained. A meeting with Richardson is being arranged by Vanderpool.

Howard will be accompanied by Baton Rouge by representatives of the City Council, Citizens Committee and Ford, Bacon and Davis.

IN BERLIN

Khrush Strikes At Weak Spot

BERLIN (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev, with his squeeze play on West Berlin, has struck at the weakest point of the Western defense line against Soviet expansionism.

The Soviet leader has a chance to gain much at relatively little risk in his bold move to force the Western powers out of this island behind the Iron Curtain.

For this new diversion, Khrushchev selected a point where—unlike in the Mediterranean and Formosa Strait—powerful American naval, air and land forces cannot be directly employed to neutralize Communist pressure.

As with Korea, the Soviets can leave a satellite nation the task of taking on the Allies in any showdown. In this case, the Communist East Germans are to be handed the power to deal with the Allies in Berlin, thus avoiding direct commitment of Soviet forces.

West Berlin, unlike threatened points elsewhere on the long periphery of the East-West struggle, has never been considered by the Allies to be militarily indefensible.

As an outpost of the Atlantic Pact within the Soviet bloc, Berlin is of immense political and psychological importance to the West. But it is a military liability.

The American, British and French garrisons of some 9,000 men in West Berlin are surrounded by 22 Soviet divisions equipped with atomic weapons and supported by 1,200 modern planes in East Germany.

These garrisons would be quickly overrun in any conflict. In any situation their position is precarious. Their tenuous lines of communication with the forward military bases of the Atlantic Alliance in West Germany are almost completely at the mercy of the Reds.

The removal of a rail switch or a bridge pillar could plug the rail and road lines. Flying the air corridors would become a hazardous affair, with the possibility of collisions if the Soviet Union stopped providing information on its own.

No Operating On Kittens As Trouble Brews

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—A high school teacher who stirred up a tempest by vivisectioning a kitten in biology class got clearance from the law Friday, but he's promised not to do it again.

County Atty. John Alden said investigation of a complaint made by the Hutchinson Humane Society against teacher Irvin Jackson of Central Christian High School, showed there was insufficient cause for action.

One of Jackson's pupils left school in protest, asserting noises made by the kitten had horrified her. The girl, Anita Trotter, later returned to classes at the private school.

"As nearly as can be determined," Alden said, "the facts are that the cat was anaesthetized with ether before the operation commenced. I have been advised by a competent medical authority that sounds coming from the cat during the operation could have been the result of involuntary muscular contractions causing air to pass through the vocal chords. Both Jackson and Walter Ediger, the principal, have given me definite assurances that no further experimentation of this nature will be conducted."

DE GAULLE, SOUSTELLE

French Election To Be Big Test

PARIS (AP)—Despite their best efforts to avoid it, the French runoff election Sunday is developing into a strange test of strategy between Premier de Gaulle and his most outspoken supporter, Jacques Soustelle.

De Gaulle, probably France's next president, apparently would like to see the National Assembly composed of moderates with a tendency to the Left. He evidently has indicated this to his close associates.

But through the hard campaigning of Soustelle, his information minister, France instead is likely to get an Assembly with a sharp bearing to the right.

Only 20 deputies of a possible 465 to be elected in European France were chosen in the first round last Sunday. The rest face the runoff.

The Communists seem certain to be the principal losers. Their 148 seats in the Assembly are likely to be reduced to 20 or fewer.

The principal gainer will be the various groups banded about Soustelle. This grouping may get about 150 seats. It would supplant the Communist party as the Assembly's biggest single bloc.

And where does the rivalry between De Gaulle and Soustelle come in?

De Gaulle has proposed a relatively generous program for pacification of Algeria, long torn by rebellion. He has promised to talk with Algerians, chosen for France's Parliament in elections there this weekend, to work out the rest of his program.

"The rest" has never been defined by De Gaulle. But he has told the Algerians that they, as Frenchmen from the other side of the Mediterranean, would have a big hand in shaping their government and their future relationship with France. He has always stopped short of promising independence.

Soustelle has advanced just such a program as De Gaulle. But among those running with Soustelle are many who have no sympathy with De Gaulle's plans. They hotly oppose any real sharing of the wealth or sharing of the power in Algeria with its Moslems—Arabs, Berbers and other North Africans.

De Gaulle saw there was going to be just such a body in the Assembly. He wanted a counterweight of Center and Left deputies who would argue for liberal treatment for Algeria.

He doesn't seem likely to get it. For with the Soustelle group will be elected a large body of independents, maybe as many as 100. These are businessmen and landowners.

On the Left will be perhaps 100 Socialists and 50 or more of a group increasingly identified as Christian Democrats.

Most jarring of all seems to be the election of a new body of 66 deputies from Algeria, at least 4 of whom must be North Africans.

Reactionary associates of Soustelle have organized that sector so thoroughly that the Moslems on the tickets seem—at first glance—to be more colonialist than the French settlers who have fought for years to keep their supremacy there. They are Moslems who benefit from continued French domination.

Algerians of selected villages started their election Friday.

Steel-helmeted French troops guarded the polls.

Veiled Moslem women voted for the first time in a legislative election. They came in army trucks.

Most Frenchmen agreed that the 174 candidates who formed the 47 party tickets entered across Algeria did not represent the aspirations of Algeria's nine million Moslems.

Rain, fog and apathy cut the turnout.

The most troublesome problem facing France is ending the revolt in Algeria. That war, in full flood since 1954, drains away men and money that France needs for better things, such as industry, housing and trade.

Leftist predictions that De Gaulle is only a stepping stone toward a takeover by rightist elements are worrying some Frenchmen.

Many comfort themselves by remembering that France fought off fascism all during the period of the 1930s when it was surrounded by Fascist powers—Germany, Italy and Spain. But they look upon Sunday as the beginning of a dangerous period.

Alaska's 1st Senate Prexy Is Discussed

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—An Indian merchant or an Eskimo carpenter may become president of Alaska's first State Senate.

The two, both Democrats, are veterans of lawmaking sessions and one of them—Frank Peratrovich—served as president of the Territorial Senate in 1949.

The two contenders will be among eight Alaska natives who will be serving in the 60-member Legislature when it convenes in January.

Peratrovich, 62, operator of a general store and former mayor of the southeastern Alaska Indian village of Klawock, was vice president of the convention that drafted the Alaska state constitution in 1955 and 1956.

The president of the Constitutional Convention was another merchant and storekeeper, Alaska's Democratic Gov.-elect William Egan of Valdez.

Peratrovich will share strong party support for the high legislative post with William E. Beltz, 45, a carpenter and union official from Unalakleet, a village in far northwestern Alaska.

Beltz, an Eskimo, was in the running for the presidency of the last Territorial Senate in 1957. The Democratic caucus that picked the officers, however, elected Vic Rivers of Anchorage as president.

Rivers made an unsuccessful bid for the Democratic nomination as governor in an August Alaska primary and was not a candidate for election to the Legislature in Alaska's balloting last Tuesday.

One of the tasks of the first Legislature will be the enactment of a succession law. It will set out the list of officials in line for the governorship in the event of death or incapacitation of the elected governor and his immediate successor, the secretary of state.

It could be that next in line will be the president of the Senate.

Peratrovich began his lawmaking career as a member of the 1945 territorial House of Representatives. He moved to the Senate in 1947 for a four-year term. He was re-elected to the Senate in 1957 after completion of the Constitutional Convention.

Beltz served in the House in 1947 and 1949—where he has served continuously since.

Democrats will have complete control of both the 20-member State Senate and the 40-member House. On the basis of returns still being compiled, it appears that Republicans will hold no more than five seats—and possibly less—in the new Legislature.

Traffic Light Installed At N. 4th And Pine

A traffic signal was recently installed at the North Fourth and Pine streets intersection by the Louisiana State Department of Highways.

North Fourth from DeSiard to Louisville serves as a portion of Louisiana highways 165 and 15, and the new light affords motorists easy access into and across the principal thoroughfare.

Since Pine Street was widened last year by the City of Monroe, the amount of traffic has increased tremendously, according to Monroe Chief of Police James C. Kelly, Jr.

This was the main reason Monroe requested the state department to install the signal.

Nine accidents, involving four injuries, are on record for this intersection from Jan. 1 to May 8 of this year, it was reported.

HANDS OR SIGNALS? LONDON (UPI)—An auto parked in the Marylebone district Thursday bore this sign: "No hand signals—too cold."

ON UNDERPASS PLANS

Monroe And State Officials To Meet

A meeting with the State Department of Highways has been arranged by Monroe city officials to discuss plans for the construction of two underpasses.

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard said yesterday that the meeting has been set for Wednesday at Baton Rouge.

Traffic surveys will be taken up in the discussion of the underpass locations, Howard said.

Meanwhile, Howard said that terms in a contract with Ford, Bacon and Davis to handle the engineering for the program have been agreed upon.

But attorneys are still preparing the contract and Howard said it would be several days before the pact was signed.

Ford, Bacon and Davis will engineer projects called for in the capital improvement program, such as drainage and sewerage.

The engineers also will supervise the jobs, it has been stipulated in past conferences between city officials and representatives of the firm.

With hopes that the highway department will assist in the construction of two underpasses, Howard said a Monroe delegation has set a meeting with state engineers in Baton Rouge.

"Their department has numerous traffic studies," he explained. "We'll go into conference with them to discuss the details in locating the underpasses."

Present plans call for locating the underpasses at the railroads on North Fourth and South Second, but officials pointed out, during the election campaign, that Three new charters and one notice of dissolution for businesses in Northeast Louisiana have been filed in the office of Wade O. Martin, Jr., secretary of state.

All of the filings were from Nov. 19 through Nov. 25.

New charters are Delhi Manufacturing Corporation, steel, tin, aluminum and fiber glass products, $200,000 capital; Zale, Monroe, 200 DeSiard St., jewelry, wholesale and retail, capital, $25,000; and Desmi Iron and Supply Co., Inc., Tullos, general oil field supplies, scrap and salvage with 500 shares at no par value.

The notice of dissolution was for the Franklin Theatres, Inc., of Winnsboro.

Final Rites Set For Ft. Smith Rodeo Producer

FT. SMITH, Ark. (Special)—Final rites for Homer Todd, 58-year-old livestock man and rodeo producer, will be conducted Saturday at 3 p.m. at the Ft. Smith Baptist Church.

He was well known in North Louisiana and for many years produced and supplied rodeo stock for West Monroe's annual championship rodeo.

He died unexpectedly at his Ft. Smith home Thursday. Mr. Todd was a member of the Cowboy Hall of Fame and of the Rodeo Cowboy's Association of America.

Surviving are his widow; a brother, George Todd, and six sisters.

Monsanto Chemical Co. has developed a new ammonium nitrate fertilizer which it says is dust-free and will not cake during storage. The product—Lion E2—can be stored indefinitely and can be stacked high without bottom bags caking, the company said.

IN BERLIN

Khrush Strikes At Weak Spot

BERLIN (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev, with his squeeze play on West Berlin, has struck at the weakest point of the Western defense line against Soviet expansionism.

The Soviet leader has a chance to gain much at relatively little risk in his bold move to force the Western powers out of this island behind the Iron Curtain.

For this new diversion, Khrushchev selected a point where—unlike in the Mediterranean and Formosa Strait—powerful American naval, air and land forces cannot be directly employed to neutralize Communist pressure.

As with Korea, the Soviets can leave to a satellite nation the task of taking on the Allies in any showdown. In this case, the Communist East Germans are to be handed the power to deal with the Allies in Berlin, thus avoiding direct commitment of Soviet forces.

West Berlin, unlike threatened points elsewhere on the long periphery of the East-West struggle, has never been considered by the Allies to be militarily defensible.

As an outpost of the Atlantic Pact within the Soviet bloc, Berlin is of immense political and psychological importance to the West. But it is a military liability.

The American, British and French garrisons of some 9,000 men in West Berlin are surrounded by 22 Soviet divisions equipped with atomic weapons and supported by 1,200 modern planes in East Germany.

These garrisons would be quickly overrun in any conflict. In any situation their position is precarious. Their tenuous lines of communication with the forward military bases of the Atlantic Alliance in West Germany are almost completely at the mercy of the Reds.

The removal of a rail switch or a bridge pillar could plug the rail and road lines. Flying the air corridors would become a hazardous affair, with the possibility of collisions if the Soviet Union stopped providing information on its own.

Three Persons Fall To Deaths

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Three persons fell to their deaths from trains on the Oslo-Drammen suburban line Thursday. Oslo papers suggested Friday there is dirty work involved.

Two men and a woman fell from different trains on the 30-mile line and were killed. In no cases were there any witnesses and police had few clues.

military flights through these corridors, as they do now.

The Western forces in Berlin serve one primary purpose: To make clear to the Kremlin that any attack on Berlin would immediately involve the home forces of the Western powers.

Khrushchev's probable motives in challenging the Allies here are these:

1. To probe the West for signs of weakness and hope for a Western split on Berlin.

2. To frighten the smaller European nations and thus hamper the Atlantic Pact powers from strengthening common defenses in Europe.

3. To divert attention at home from domestic problems besetting the Soviet regime.

4. To try to press the West into a settlement on all Germany favorable to the Soviet Union.

Aside from this, ejection of the Western Allies from Berlin would mark a major triumph for the Soviet leader. This former German capital is a hole in the Iron Curtain that has long irritated the Soviet Union.

It is a showcase of the West to the East Germans, with their depressed standard of living under communism. It is the gateway to freedom for thousands of East Germans who flee Red domination. It is a good Western observation post of some Soviet military activities in East Germany—the probable jumping-off point for any Communist attack on the West.

No Operating On Kittens As Trouble Brews

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—A high school teacher who stirred up a tempest by vivisectioning a kitten in biology class got clearance from the law Friday, but he's promised not to do it again.

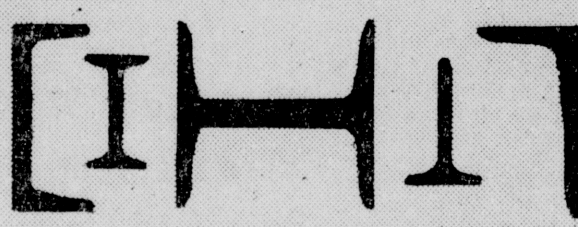

County Atty. John Alden said investigation of a complaint made by the Hutchinson Humane Society against teacher Irvin Jackson of Central Christian High School, showed there was insufficient cause for action.

One of Jackson's pupils left school in protest, asserting noises made by the kitten had horrified her. The girl, Anita Trotter, later returned to classes at the private school.

"As nearly as can be determined," Alden said, "the facts are that the cat was anaesthetized with ether before the operation commenced. I have been advised by a competent medical authority that sounds coming from the cat during the operation could have been the result of involuntary muscular contractions causing air to pass through the vocal chords. Both Jackson and Walter Ediger, the principal, have given me definite assurances that no further experimentation of this nature will be conducted."

WOUNDED FATALLY

LAHORE, Pakistan (UPI)—Robert Walker, 40, of Livingston, Mont., public affairs officer at the U.S. Consulate here, died Thursday of injuries suffered in a hunting accident, it was disclosed Friday. Consulate officials said Walker apparently shot himself in the head accidentally while cleaning his gun.

Plane Lands Safely After Gear Trouble

BOSTON (AP)—A United Air Lines plane from Chicago, with 41 persons aboard, landed safely Friday at Logan International Airport after circling in the air for 50 minutes with a temporarily disabled landing gear.

The plane swooped down amid semidarkness and rain to a safe landing on a runway covered with foam by emergency crews.

The plane crew had at first reported inability to lower the landing gear.

After the landing gear was lowered, it was still uncertain whether it would withstand the stress of landing and emergency airport vehicles, Boston Fire Department apparatus and ambulances were lined up.

As the big ship at last was signaled that the runway was completely ready, with a blanket of foam, it circles for its approach and came in, making what airlines officials described as a perfect landing.

Condition Of Man Shot Is Said Critical

VICKSBURG, Miss. (AP)—A Venice, Calif., man was in critical condition with a bullet wound and Friday officers held an itinerant construction worker in connection with the shooting.

A .45 caliber pistol bullet pierced the liver of Leo Schrazer after the shooting in a hotel room Thursday.

Philip Murtha, 33, of Cathedral City, Calif., who told officers he was a native of New York and had served a term at a Washington state reformatory on an assault conviction, was jailed.

Dist. Atty. T. J. Lawrence said charges of assault with intent to kill would be filed against Murtha in the shooting. Murtha refused to answer questions about the shooting on advice of his attorneys.

Lawrence said a woman, who registered at the local hotel with Schrazer as Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kramer of New Orleans, would be held for investigation and as a material witness.

The woman identified herself as showgirl Renee Campanelli and said her maiden name was Renee Perry. She said she was released from jail in Gretna, La., Monday and Schrazer had driven there to pick her up. She served time for a narcotics conviction, she said.

Lt. James Terry of the Vicksburg detective bureau continued to question Murtha and the woman.

Murtha registered at the hotel under the name Howard Johnson. Officers said the gun apparently used in the shooting was found on the fire escape outside Murtha's room.

TRUCKER HIJACKED
LONDON (UPI)—Truck driver William Charles Bartley, 50, told police Friday three hijackers stole his 200-gallon load of whisky worth $36,400. Bartley said another truck forced him to stop as he was carting the liquor from the docks to the Chelsea district.

Famed Auto Millionaire Is Buried

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A hundred of his closest friends, huddled against a cold wind and a powdery snowfall, stood silently by Friday as Charles F. Kettering was lowered into his grave.

The famed automotive genius and millionaire philanthropist who died of a cerebral hemorrhage at the age of 82 Tuesday, was buried in a brief, simple ceremony, cut short by the wintry weather. He lies next to his wife, Olive, who died in 1946.

Between 400 and 450 friends and relatives crowded into Christ Episcopal church here earlier to attend the 18-minute funeral service. Again the ceremony was brief. A few prayers were said; several hymns were sung. There was no eulogy. Red roses covered the casket.

Outside, 40 cars formed the funeral procession, curious crowds most of whom never knew the inventor lined the streets en route to the ceremony. One woman raised her baby above her head to give the child a glimpse of the passing motorcade. In a barber shop, a man climbed out of his chair and pressed his face against the window as the procession passed by.

At the ceremony, an employee had to shovel away snow to make a path from the road to the grave. Bronze-colored chrysanthemums lined the path and other floral arrangements decorated the burial place.

The snowstorm, worst of the year here, kept scores of out-of-towners from attending the funeral.

A dozen private planes were expected, all carrying key executives of General Motors Corp., the company Kettering served for many years as vice president and board member. But only four made it.

Of the four planes that did arrive, one carried Alfred P. Sloan Jr., former GM board chairman from New York; another Frederick G. Donner, GM board chairman and John F. Gordon, GM president, from New York; one carried Harlow Curtice former GM president from Flint, Mich., and the fourth arrived with Henry Du Pont and Walter S. Carpenter, both GM board members, from Wilmington, Del.

Curtice told newsmen: "They told me when we took off we had a 50-50 chance of landing and I said that was enough for me."

Kettering, whose impressive list of inventions, includes the automobile self starter, the electric cash register, antiknock gasoline, baby incubators, and scores of others, lies in the same cemetery—Woodland—with two other famous Dayton inventors—Orville and Wilbur Wright.

Gets Royal Approval To Grow A Beard

LONDON (AP)—A 21-year-old Sikh who shaved off his beard so he could join the British army got royal approval Friday to grow it again.

The word was handed down to trooper Pakhar Singh from the Duke of Gloucester, colonel in chief of the crack 10th Royal Hussars.

The Duke, uncle of Queen Elizabeth II, had read how the young Sikh traveled 10,000 miles by foot and hitchhiking across 14 countries from Malaya to join the Hussars.

The British army frowns on bearded soldiers, so Pakhar Singh shaved off his luxuriant black beard to better his chances of being accepted. The army took him on.

A spokesman said that after reading the Sikh's story the Duke notified the regiment that Trooper Singh can continue to wear his beard and turban at all times. "I'm very happy," said Trooper Singh.

Nixon Says He's Going To Help GOP

LONDON (AP)—Vice President Nixon said Friday he is going back home to work for Republican success, whether the Republican 1960 nominee is Nelson Rockefeller "or some other of our fine candidates."

He declined to discuss his own prospects for the nomination.

Nixon bantered with 400 British and foreign newsmen in a 65-minute televised news conference.

Many of Fleet Street's top political reporters — among them Laborites who dislike U.S. Republicans—were at the conference and many of their questions were loaded.

But Nixon answered all their questions at such length and with such an air of sincerity that he left them without immediate arguments. He spoke in a relaxed way and won occasional bursts of appreciative laughter.

In his serious vein, he assailed the Soviet plan to make West Berlin a demilitarized free city. He said that it would create three Germanys "and we already have two. It would only make the situation worse," he said.

Nixon also sent a message to West Berlin's Lord Mayor Willy Brandt pledging undiminished U. S. support to West Berlin.

In other political statements, Nixon defended U.S. foreign policy on Red China; declared the Eisenhower administration may have made some mistakes but its total record is good; and announced his support for the idea of a U.N. police force.

Both here and in a quipping session with Oxford University men earlier in the day, Nixon's good humor and the way he handled himself seemed to support published newspaper verdicts that he had arrived four days ago unopposed but had destroyed Britain's pre-visit image of him.

On his Oxford visit he said Gov.-elect Rockefeller will make a splendid governor of New York and would be a fine presidential nominee.

In answer to undergraduate questions, Nixon said, "Nelson Rockefeller is one of the best candidates I have ever seen in public life. I think he will make a splendid governor."

That brought a laugh and Nixon added quickly: "If he should get the nomination for the presidency in 1960, he will make an excellent campaigner and a fine candidate."

ON BOWL BID

Air Force Ready To Give Decision

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — The Air Force Academy's undefeated football team will meet Colorado University here Saturday and announce its decision on a Cotton Bowl bid immediately after the game.

Win or lose, Cotton Bowl officials want the high-flying Academy Falcons to play Texas Christian in the New Year's Day classic in Dallas, Tex. Academy players, however, deferred a decision until after the Colorado clash.

Jack Lowe, president of the Cotton Bowl, and Felix R. McKnight, selection chairman for the bowl, will be among the crowd of some 40,000.

Kickoff time is 1:30 p.m., MST. Fair weather and a 40-degree temperature are promised. Crewmen at Folsom Stadium cleared five inches of snow from the field Friday.

The Air Force ranked No. 8 in the nation, brings an 8-0 record into the Falcons' final game. The tie was with Rose Bowl-bound Iowa.

Colorado's Buffaloes got away to a fast start with five victories but have been faltering since a crushing defeat by Oklahoma and now have a 6-3 record.

Air Force Coach Ben Martin was given a new five-year contract Thursday for a fine job this season. He said he fears Colorado's kicking game, Colorado backs Boyd Dowler and Howard Cook have averaged around 43 yards a try and the Buffs frequently have used a quick kick.

Lighly regarded at the season's outset, the Falcons have developed a smooth, balanced offense which rates third in the country. Quarterback Rich Mayo is third among the nation's passers.

Colorado Coach Dal Ward said his squad is in its best condition physically since the Oklahoma game and his players have "a fine mental attitude about this game."

The Air Force, making its first bow in bigtime football this season, attracted the interest of sponsors of several bowls. The Cotton Bowl bid has been cleared by the Air Force Department in Washington. A post-game vote by the players will determine whether the bid is accepted.

That big letdown came after Florida gave Louisiana State and Auburn — currently the nation's two top teams — great battles only to be nosed out 10-7 and 6-5.

Florida, with a record of 5 won, 3 lost and 1 tied, is practically at full strength.

Fageros Wins Two Net Titles

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Karol Fageros of Miami Beach, No. 3 ranked woman player in the United States won two championships in the Argentine National Tennis Tournament Friday.

She teamed with 16-year-old Norman Bayon of Argentina to capture the women's doubles with a 6-4, 6-3 decision over Argentina's Graciela Lombardi and Mabel Dove, then paired with Enrique Morea, Argentina's Davis Cup captain, to take the mixed doubles. They topped Eduardo Soriano of Argentina and Margaret Hellyer of Australia 6-3, 1-6, 6-4.

least a tie for that crown by whipping the San Francisco Forty-Niners. Coach Frank Albert's team, the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 4-5 lost to the Detroit Lions in a playoff for the Western title last year but never Sunday against disorganized and crippled rivals.

Each of the 12 clubs will have two more games after Sunday's Chicago Bears (6-3) by two action, The Colts (8-1) can clinch games in the Western Division, is the Western title outright if the a 13½ point favorite to clinch at Steelers (5-4) help them take a three-game lead by upsetting the Bears at Pittsburgh. The Bears are 3½ point favorites but Pittsburgh is not and has swept its last four games.

Cleveland, a game ahead of the New York Giants (6-3) in the Eastern race, is a 13½ point favorite to defeat the crippled Washington Redskins (3-6). The Redskins have been hampered all season by injuries and several, including quarterback Eddie LeBaron, were hurt in last Sunday's 30-0 loss to New York. The Giants are nine-point choices for their home game with the Philadelphia Eagles (2-6-1).

In Sunday's other game, the Los Angeles Rams (5-4) are seven-point favorites to defeat the Cardinals (2-6-1) at Chicago. The Lions (4-5-1) and Green Bay Packers (1-10-1) are idle after playing Thursday with Detroit winning, 24-14.

Quarterback John Unitas, halfback Lenny Moore and a rugged defensive unit will lead the Colts against the Forty-Niners before a sellout crowd of 57,357. Unitas, sidelined for two weeks with cracked ribs, returned to action against the Rams last week and threw two touchdown passes to bring his season total to 14. Moore has scored 12 touchdowns, 6 on runs and 6 on passes. The Forty-Niners also will have to try to cover Unitas' other key target, Raymond Berry. He has caught seven touchdown passes.

The Redskins gave Cleveland a 7-21 a stiff tussle at Washington two weeks ago. The score was decided when the Redskins scored 10 points in the last three minutes to win, 20-10. Jim Brown, Cleveland fullback, scored twice and boosted his rushing yardage to an all-time season high in that game. Jim now has 1,229 yards and needs two touchdowns to break Steve Van Buren's season mark of 18.

New York must stop the league's busiest passer—and one of its best throwers—Norm Van Brocklin, Van Brocklin, who has thrown 308 passes and completed 164 for 2,010 yards so far this season, beat the Giants with his throws at Philadelphia early in the season. He gave the Cleveland defense fits last Sunday while his team bowed, 24-14.

The Bears also face one of the league's best and most experienced passers in Bobby Layne of the Steelers. Coach Buddy Parker says his Steelers now are capable of handling any team in the Eastern race except the Browns. They have proved it by whipping the Redskins, Eagles, Giants and Cardinals in their last four starts.

Mike DeJohn In Decision Over German

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Tall Mike DeJohn, ninth ranking heavy-weight contender from Syracuse, N. Y., huffed and puffed to a close but unanimous decision over Willie Besmanoff of Milwaukee in a televised 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

DeJohn, a 7-5 underdog, weighed 202½ to Besmanoff's 201.

The officials had DeJohn ahead by the following scores: Referee Al Berl 6-3-1, and Judges Jack Gordon and Leo Birnbaum, 5-4-1 each. The Associated Press had DeJohn in front, 5-4-1.

There were no knockdowns. Each was cut in the second round. DeJohn over the right eye and Besmanoff over the left eye.

Most of the action, whatever it was, was packed into the last three rounds. The 6-3 DeJohn, who towered over his stocky 5-11 opponent, took the eighth and ninth and that proved the difference.

The ninth was the handsome up-stater's best round. For the first time in the tangle affair he unloaded more than two punches in combination. Twice he ripped off clusters of four punches to the head, spraying Willie's blood over the ring. Besmanoff bled from the gash over his eye and from the nose.

Willie had to chase after his foe most of the fight. He bled in and tried to slam away to the body. He succeeded from time to time and every now and then his blows strayed below the belt line. Referee Berl warned both after the seventh round to "keep them up" and he cautioned Willie twice more in the ninth round for low blows. But the referee didn't penalize him by taking away a round.

When Willie hunched his shoulders before charging in, it looked like a fight between a bull and a giraffe. They often posed for long spells before unloading any punches.

Off their showing in this one, neither appeared to be anything for champion Floyd Patterson to worry about.

DeJohn had been a 7-5 favorite but the odds shifted in Besmanoff's favor at fight time. It was last five, Besmanoff's record now is 39-13-7.

A crowd of 2,000 braved a lashing rain storm to see the fight "live." They paid about $5,000.

NEXT FRIDAY

Neville Battles Springhill Here

The Neville High School Tigers, district 2-AA football champions who won their first state football crown a couple of years ago, will meet the Springhill Lumberjacks here next Friday night at 8 o'clock at Neville Stadium in a state double-A quarter-final playoff battle.

Sidney Seegers, Neville principal, announced final arrangements for the game yesterday following a meeting with Springhill school officials at Arcadia. Neville was represented at the meeting by Van Odom, superintendent of Monroe city schools, Bill Ruple, the Tiger coach, and Seegers.

Springhill was selected by the district 1-AA championship committee to represent the district after the Lumberjacks had thrown the district race into a muddle by upsetting the heavily favored Minden Crimson Tide, 34-19, at Springhill Thursday afternoon. The result of the Springhill-

Minden game actually threw the race in 1-AA into a three-way tie between the Jacks, Crimson Tide, and Homer Pelicans, each with 3-1 league records.

The 1-AA championship committee passed up a possible playoff situation and named Springhill to represent the district in the playoffs on the "basis of comparative scores."

The winner of the Friday contest here will meet the Natchitoches Red Devils, 3-AA champs, for the right to appear in the state title game.

Principal Seegers last night said the advanced sale of tickets for the game is expected to begin Monday at the Neville High office if the pasted boards are available from the printer in time.

Prices will be $2.50 for individual box seats, $2 for reserved seats, $1.50 for adult general admissions, and 75 cents for students.

MORE NIGHT GAMES

Major Loops To Get Early Start

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—The 1959 American League baseball season will have its earliest start in history and have more night games crammed into its schedule than ever before—264.

The schedule, released Friday by league president Will Harridge, kicks off next year's campaign with Baltimore in the traditional opener at Washington on April 9, a Thursday. This gives the season a weekend start instead of the usual Monday or Tuesday launch.

The full opener on April 10 is the earliest since 1913, when President Woodrow Wilson tossed out the first ball to the late Clark Griffith, then Washington manager, and touched off the starting round for all clubs.

The opening round will send Cleveland to Kansas City, Chicago to Detroit and Boston to New York. These three-game series will end with contests Sunday, April 12. After the April 9 opener, Baltimore remains at Washington but skips the next day and concludes the series with a Sunday doubleheader.

The 264 night engagements slated tops the previous high of 1953 by 15. Of the 249 on tap this year, a record 241 actually were played. Weather forced out the others.

Kansas City scheduled 47 and played 46, the most floodlight contests ever played in one season by an American League club. For 1959, Kansas City again has the most planned, 52, followed by Baltimore with 46, Washington 42, Cleveland 35, Boston 24, Chicago 23, Detroit 21 and New York 21.

The 1959 holiday doubleheader schedule includes:

Decoration Day, May 30—Detroit at Chicago, Kansas City at Cleveland, New York at Washington, Baltimore at Boston; July 4—Chicago at Kansas City, Cleveland at Detroit, Boston at Baltimore (single game), Washington at New York; Labor Day, Sept. 7—Kansas City at Chicago, Detroit at Cleveland, Washington at Baltimore, New York at Boston (single game).

Matchmaker George Parnassus of Olympic Club offered the jockey-size Perez a bout for the title against Mario de Leon, 112-pound champion of Mexico, if he whips Ursum.

In the event of a loss to the Filipino, Parnassus made an offer for a rematch to be held here.

2 Sophs On AP Big Ten Squad

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—This season's well-balanced Big Ten football campaign was mirrored Friday in the 1958 Associated Press All-Conference team. Players from six schools landed berths.

Two spots each went to champion Iowa, Ohio State, Wisconsin,

Purdue and Northwestern and one to Illinois.

So unusually strong was the stockpile of talent to choose from—especially linemen—that the 12 balloting AP writers failed to name any player unanimously. Also, there were no holdovers from the 1957 first team, and the No. 2 line-up very nearly could be ranked on a par with the No. 1 unit.

Two sophomores made the grade—halfback Willie Fleming of Iowa, who matched a Big Ten record by averaging 8.8 yards a carry, and guard Ron Maloney of Purdue, a nimble, aggressive 197-pounder.

Paired with Fleming at halfback is Northwestern's Ron Burton, an explosive runner who averaged 4.0 yards in 93 hauls, caught 10 passes and scored 52 points.

Rounding out the backfield is fullback Bob White of Ohio State, whose 178 carries set a modern conference record, and quarterback Randy Duncan, mastermind of Iowa's champions and aerial trader with 66 completions in 111 shots for 898 yards and 7 touchdowns.

White, who blasted 713 yards without once being thrown for a demotion was part of the punishment for violation of academy regulations. Mascali was relieved as captain about a month ago. Dupre said the punishment was for "conduct to the prejudice of and 5 TDs, missed a sweep by good order and discipline." He declined to elaborate.

The violation for which Mascali was punished had no connection with a hoax which brought about the demotion of three brigade officers earlier this week.

In that incident, involving a high school girl's masquerade as a midshipman, the two men directly involved are on restriction awaiting further disciplinary action.

Cage Captain Is Relieved For Violation

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Naval Academy officials confirmed Friday that John Mascali of Allen, Pa., has been removed as captain of the Navy basketball team for disciplinary reasons.

Mascali, a senior, is still a member of the team but has been replaced as captain by Dick Johnson of Austin, Tex.

Cmdr. Marcy Dupre, academy public information officer said the demotion was part of the punishment for violation of academy regulations. Mascali was relieved as captain about a month ago. Dupre said the punishment was for "conduct to the prejudice of and 5 TDs, missed a sweep by good order and discipline." He declined to elaborate.

NEVILLE FALLS

J-H Gains Finals Against Simsboro

QUITMAN, La. (Special) — The Jonesboro - Hodge and Simsboro high school basketball teams will clash tonight in the championship finals of the annual Quitman Invitational Basketball Tournament.

In the semi-finals last night, the J-H Tigers bounced the Neville High Tigers of Monroe, 73-48, and Simsboro romped over Sumnerfield, 60-40.

Jonesboro-Hodge and Simsboro meet here tonight at 8 o'clock after Neville and Sumnerfield played the 7 o'clock consolation contest.

John Bailey and Charles Baragona, with 24 and 20 points respectively, led the J-H march past Neville. The Monroe club was led by "Penny" Pennington's 17 points.

Max Lewis was high man under the nets for Simsboro with 22 points, and Jerry Adkins paced Sumnerfield with 20.

The tournament, featuring boys' teams only, opened here with games Monday and Tuesday, look a lull for Thanksgiving on Wednesday and Thursday, and resumed action last night.

Neville gave J-H an interesting

battle for three quarters. The Jackson parish quint led only 15-14 at the quarter and was in front 49-35 entering the final period when J-H really "poured it on."

Jonesboro - Hodge and Neville are rivals in the tough district 2-AA league, and their game here is regarded as some indication of what the two clubs can expect when their conference race begins.

Earlier games Monday and Tuesday saw Sumnerfield beat Ouachita of Monroe, 61-51; Weston beat Chatam, 58-50; Jonesboro-Hodge beat Winnfield, 62-36; Quitman beat Calvn, 66-42; Neville beat Weston, 80-60; Simsboro beat Jena, 45-39; and Sumnerfield beat Quitman, 54-51.

Swimmer Ends Controversy, To Become Pro

LONDON (AP)—Judy Grinham, Britain's only gold medal swimmer at the Melbourne Olympics, quit big-time swimming Friday because you can not live on medals. "Earlier this week she signed for a part in a movie."

The shapely miss found herself smack in a controversy but ended it Friday with her announcement. Amateur rules provide that one becomes a professional by capitalizing on one's athletic publicity or prowess. Miss Grinham is cast as a physical education teacher in the movie. She does not swim in the picture.

"I didn't want to give up swimming yet but I must. I must earn a living. This film chance has made me realize that I can not give my best as a swimmer if I am going to concentrate on my new job," she explained.

Canadians In Battle For Pro Grey Cup

VANCOUVER (AP)—The Hamilton Tiger-Cats and the Winnipeg Blue Bombers clash Saturday in Canada's premier sports attraction, the Grey Cup final for the Canadian professional football championship.

The game climaxes a four-month season that early showed the Tiger-Cats and Bombers as the cream of the East and West. The game is expected to draw a crowd of nearly 40,000 largest for a single attraction in the history of Canadian sport. The kickoff is scheduled for 4:30 p.m., EST.

The Tiger-Cats, who beat the Bombers 30-7 in last year's final, are favorites at odds of 7-5 or by 7½ points.

Bud Grant, a former end with the Bombers who played for Trimbale at Philadelphia, is seeking the Canadian title in his second year as coach of the Winnipeg club.

Auburn Tigers Confident In 'Bama Clash

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Confident Auburn and determined Alabama, both fit and eager, clash Saturday in a football classic that could mean a bowl bid for underdog 'Bama.

Alabama is reported No. 1 on the Blue Grass Bowl list. But an upset of Auburn, No. 2 in the nation, could mean an invitation to one of the major bowls. The gates are still open in varying degrees to the Gator and Cotton bowls.

Auburn itself has nowhere to go because of a probation imposed by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. for alleged illegal recruiting. But the Tigers are proud of their string of 23 unbeaten games and want to extend it, especially past the Tide.

The Tigers were 7½ points favorites on the eve of the game. That in itself is a measure of the resurgence of Alabama in a year with Coach Paul Bryant. Auburn slaughtered Alabama last year 40-0.

Kickoff is 2 p.m. CST.

Nothing concrete in the way of terms was discussed.

Perez' manager, Lazaro Koci, expressed keen interest in the possibilities and the champion, making his first but brief stop in this country, said he would fight anywhere in the world. He said he'd like to box in the United States particularly.

Holly Ridge Whips Plain Dealing In 13-6 Contest

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Holly Ridge's opportunist Eagles converted two Plain Dealing fumbles into touchdowns for a 13-6 victory at Louisiana Tech Stadium here last night to draw a shot at Crowleyville in the state semi-final Class B playoff.

The win gave the Eagles a slight underdog, an 8-4 record for the season. Plain Dealing dropped to a 9-3 record.

Holly Ridge fullback Marvin McManus led the Richland Parish offensive and scored one of the Eagle touchdowns on an eight-yard spurt up the middle in the second quarter.

Plain Dealing tied the score at 6-6 in the third quarter on a beautiful 24-yard run by Bryce Malone.

Spurlock breasted ten yards straight up the middle, giving Holly Ridge a 12-6 lead early in the fourth quarter. McManus kicked the extra point.

Quarterback Vonn Matlock set up the touchdown with a 35-yard scamper. Try for the point was no good.

Late in the first quarter Spurlock scooped up a Plain Dealing fumble on the Lion 31 and streaked to the Lion eight. McManus, easily the workhorse for the Eagles, plowed the remaining distance.

Plain Dealing threatened twice in the first quarter but was held inside the 20 both times by a stalwart Eagle forward wall led by Cecil Vaghn and Wayne Taunton.

Midway in the third quarter Lion end Jerry Bandy flopped on a Holly Ridge fumble on his own 44. Matlock broke loose around end to the Eagle 24. Malone then stepped off the tying touchdown.

Holly Ridge went ahead for keeps early in the fourth quarter with a short 20-yard drive set up by another Plain Dealing fumble. McManus powered to the ten, and Spurlock rammed the rest of the way. The rest of the fourth quarter was strictly a defensive bout from both sides.

The game was played in a temperature of about 32 degrees.

Officials of Crowleyville and Holly Ridge schools will meet to decide the site and time of their playoff game due for next week.

Auburn Tigers Confident In 'Bama Clash

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Confident Auburn and determined Alabama, both fit and eager, clash Saturday in a football classic that could mean a bowl bid for underdog 'Bama.

Alabama is reported No. 1 on the Blue Grass Bowl list. But an upset of Auburn, No. 2 in the nation, could mean an invitation to one of the major bowls. The gates are still open in varying degrees to the Gator and Cotton bowls.

Auburn itself has nowhere to go because of a probation imposed by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. for alleged illegal recruiting. But the Tigers are proud of their string of 23 unbeaten games and want to extend it, especially past the Tide.

The Tigers were 7½ points favorites on the eve of the game. That in itself is a measure of the resurgence of Alabama in a year with Coach Paul Bryant. Auburn slaughtered Alabama last year 40-0.

Kickoff is 2 p.m. CST.

Nothing concrete in the way of terms was discussed.

Perez' manager, Lazaro Koci, expressed keen interest in the possibilities and the champion, making his first but brief stop in this country, said he would fight anywhere in the world. He said he'd like to box in the United States particularly.

Matchmaker George Parnassus of Olympic Club offered the jockey-size Perez a bout for the title against Mario de Leon, 112-pound champion of Mexico, if he whips Ursa.

In the event of a loss to the Filipino, Parnassus made an offer for a rematch to be held here.

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP) — This season's well-balanced Big Ten football campaign was mirrored Friday in the 1958 Associated Press All-Conference team. Players from six schools landed berths.

Two spots each went to champion Iowa, Ohio State, Wisconsin, Purdue and Northwestern and one to Illinois.

So unusually strong was the stockpile of talent to choose from — especially linemen — that the 12 balloting AP writers failed to name any player unanimously.

Also, there were no holdovers from the 1957 first team, and the No. 2 line-up very nearly could be ranked on a par with the No. 1 unit.

Two sophomores made the grade — halfback Willie Fleming of Iowa, who matched a Big Ten record by averaging 8.8 yards a carry, and guard Ron Maltony of Purdue, a nimble, aggressive 197-pounder.

Paired with Fleming at halfback is Northwestern's Ron Burton, an explosive runner who averaged 4.0 yards in 93 hauls, caught 10 passes and scored 52 points.

Rounding out the backfield is fullback Bob White of Ohio State, whose 178 carries set a modern conference record, and quarterback Randy Duncan, mastermind of Iowa's champions and aerial leader with 66 completions in 111 shots for 898 yards and 7 touchdowns.

White, who blasted 713 yards without once being thrown for a loss, and Duncan missed being unanimous choices by one first-team vote. Illinois' pass-snarling end, Rich Kretling, whose 19 catches were good for 548 yards and 5 TDs, missed a sweep by one first-team vote.

At the other end is Jim Houston, ranked the greatest wingman in Ohio State history. Teamed with Maltony at guard is 203-pound Jerry Stalcup of Wisconsin. The second-place Badgers also landed 216-pound Dick Teatek at Center.

Tackle spot went to Purdue's Gene Selawski, 248, and Northwestern's Andy Cvercko, 225. The first string line averages a hefty 215 pounds.

NEVILLE FALLS

J-H Gains Finals Against Simsboro

QUITMAN, La. (Special) — The Jonesboro-Hodge and Simsboro high school basketball teams will clash tonight in the championship finals of the annual Quitman Invitational Basketball Tournament.

In the semi-finals last night, the J-H Tigers bounced the Neville High Tigers of Monroe, 73-48, and Simsboro romped over Summerfield, 60-49.

Jonesboro-Hodge and Simsboro meet here tonight at 8 o'clock after Neville and Summerfield tangled in the 7 o'clock consolation contest.

John Bailey and Charles Baragona, with 24 and 20 points respectively, led the J-H march past Neville. The Monroe club was led by "Penny" Pennington's 17 points.

Max Lewis was high man under the nets for Simsboro with 22 points, and Jerry Adkins paced Summerfield with 20.

The tournament, featuring boys' teams only, opened here with games Monday and Tuesday, took a lull for Thanksgiving on Wednesday and Thursday, and resumed action last night.

Neville gave J-H an interesting

battle for three quarters. The Jackson parish quint led only 15-14 at the quarter and was in front 49-35 entering the final period when J-H really "poured it on."

Jonesboro-Hodge and Neville are rivals in the tough district 2-AA league, and their game here is regarded as some indication of what the two clubs can expect when their conference race begins.

Earlier games Monday and Tuesday saw Summerfield beat Ouachita of Monroe, 61-51; Weston beat Chatam, 58-50; Jonesboro-Hodge beat Winnfield, 62-36; Quitman beat Calvin, 66-42; Neville beat Weston, 80-60; Simsboro beat Jena, 45-39; and Summerfield beat Quitman, 54-31.

Swimmer Ends Controversy, To Become Pro

LONDON (AP) — Judy Grinham, Britain's only gold medal swimmer at the Melbourne Olympics, quit big-time swimming Friday "because you can not live on medals." Earlier this week she signed for a part in a movie.

The shapely miss found herself smack in a controversy but ended it Friday with her announcement. Amateur rules provide that one becomes a professional by capitalizing on one's athletic publicity or prowess. Miss Grinham is cast as a physical education teacher in the movie. She does not swim in the picture.

"I didn't want to give up swimming yet but I must. I must earn a living. This film chance has made me realize that I can not give my best as a swimmer if I am going to concentrate on my new job," she explained.

Court Ruling To Have Big Effect On Sugar Bowl Tilt

By ED TUNSTALL
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A federal court ruling with far-reaching effects Friday knocked out a Louisiana law banning sports competition between white and Negro athletes.

The law, passed by the state legislature in 1956, prevented mixed boxing matches and teams with Negro players from meeting all-white squads in events such as the Sugar Bowl.

Although not concerned in the case, filed by Negro boxer Joe Dorsey, the Sugar Bowl could be the chief beneficiary of the ruling.

The Sugar Bowl has been searching for an opponent for top-ranked Louisiana State in the New Year's Day football game. The sports segregation law narrowed the field to a handful of teams.

The Air Force Academy, ranked eighth in this week's Associated Press poll, was the choicest plum for the Sugar Bowl. But like the other service academies—Army and Navy—the Air Force frowned on the sports segregation law and all but eliminated itself from consideration.

Although he declined comment on the ruling pending a consultation with attorneys, Sugar Bowl President Claude "Monk" Simons did not eliminate the Air Force as a possibility. President reports during the week all but had Clemson in the other corner to face unbeaten LSU in the post-season classic.

Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion, when informed of the ruling, said it was his mandatory duty to file an appeal.

The court, however, also tossed a stumbling block at the state by issuing an injunction preventing further enforcement of the law.

Judge John Minor Wisdom of the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and District Judges Herbert Christenberry and J. Skelly Wright signed the ruling. It dealt only with mixed athletic competition and did not touch segregated seating at sports events and other phases of the segregation law.

Dorsey filed the suit last year, contending his career was being jeopardized by the law. The statute also prevented lightweight champion Joe Brown, a Negro, from defending his title against Ralph Dupas here last May. Both are from New Orleans and boxing promoters said the bout would have drawn the largest gate in local ring history. The bout was held in Houston, Tex.

With regard to the Sugar Bowl, Gremlion said as far as he was concerned, "There was and is nothing to prevent the Air Force Academy from being invited and from accepting."

"The only deterrent might be the possibility of minority groups like the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, putting pressure on high officials in Washington. But if the Air Force wants to play the No. 1 team in the country they will resist that pressure."

Gremlion said his office "will do everything to cooperate in any effort to make it possible for the Air Force to play in the Sugar Bowl."

There are no Negroes on the Air Force Academy squad. But the practice of segregated seating—still unaffected by Friday's ruling—is the thorn. There was no comment from Air Force officials, who are known to want a bowl bid for the unbeaten but once-titled Falcons. The Air Force is also high on the list of eligibles to play Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Sharpshooter, who has developed into one of the country's better handicap horses, comes into the Special fresh from a victory in the Narragansett Special. He previously won the Diamond Stake, Capitol and Valley Forge Handicaps and will be ridden by Howard Grant, second among the nation's leading riders.

Tick Tock, to be piloted by Bob Ussery, finished fifth to Nahoda in his last start, the $25,000 Sport Page Handicap at Jamaica. But he was last in the opening sixteenth of that six-furlong race and his handlers say he'll like the longer distance this time out. He earlier won the Vosburgh and Princeton Handicaps.

Despite the small field, Better Bee ranks as a distinct outsider, having finished second in an overnight allowance at Pimlico.

He has three stakes victories in the current campaign—the Appleton and Southern Cross at Gulfstream last winter, and the Citation Handicap at Balmoral. Karl Corte will ride.

All will carry 126 in the weight-for-age race, with $35,000 going to the winner, $10,000 for second and $5,000 for third.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sammy Oates, a deaf mute playing his first year of college football, is one of four Hardin-Simmons players named to the Border Conference all-star team.

Arizona State at Tempe placed three players and New Mexico A&M two on the first team, selected for The Associated Press by sports writers.

End Bill Spanko, 6-foot, 130-pound junior from Arizona State, was the only unanimous choice.

Oates, 6-1, 210 pounds, missed being a unanimous choice by one vote. The 19-year-old freshman, who gets his offensive signals by sign language, is the top pass receiver for the Cowboys. He grabbed 30 for 363 yards in nine games and is considered by Coach Sammy Baugh as one of the best defensive men on the team.

There are three repeaters from the 1957 all-conference squad—halfback Leon Burton of Arizona State, tackle Ted Edmondson and guard Joe Biggs, both of Hardin-Simmons. The fourth Cowboy on the squad is Pete Hart, 182-pound fullback who leads the conference in rushing.

With Burton and Hart in the first team backfield are Joe Kelly of New Mexico A&M and John Hangartner of Arizona State.

Lightest men on the line are Spanko and Pool Webb of Texas Western, a 180-pound center.

Rounding out the first team are Bill Locklin, junior tackle from A&M, and Jerry Epps, guard from West Texas.

RETAINS CASTING CUP
NEW YORK (AP)—Jon Taranino, 21-year-old University of California junior from San Francisco, won the world casting title for the second straight year at Brussels.

He retained the elaborate Garcia cup by piling up 13,958 points in the International Casting Federation tourney.

He worked out for a half hour with Barry McKay of Dayton, Ohio, on the White City courts. Neither peeled off his sweat shirt in the drill. Buchholz showed no ill effects of Friday's grueling five-set semifinal duel with Emerson and the three-set junior doubles match in which he and his partner were defeated.

"I've been looking forward to playing Ashley," he said, "but I never expected it to happen so soon after my arrival in Australia. Maybe I should head for home while I'm still winning," he added.

ARMY HUDDLE — Army Coach Earl Blaik poses with his team captain, Pete Dawkins, halfback from Royal Oak, Mich., as the Army team "looked over" Municipal Stadium yesterday in preparation for today's annual football game with Navy. The two service teams go into the 59th game of the series which began in 1890. Army has won 29, Navy 24 and there have been five ties.

DESPITE RAIN, SNOW

Cadets Still Solid Choice To Swamp Middies Today

By JACK HAND
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Despite an angry weather forecast of rain, snow and freezing temperatures, unbeaten Army Friday remained a sound one-touchdown favorite over Navy for Saturday's traditional football test at Municipal Stadium.

Army's lonesome end offense, keyed around halfbacks Pete Dawkins and Bob Anderson and end Bill Carpenter, has functioned in 70-degree heat, drenching rain and bright sunshine. The wide open attack, leaning heavily on passing instead of the old grind out tactics, has brought Army through eight games without defeat. Only a tie with Pitt mars the record.

Navy has relied heavily on the passing arm of quarterback Joe Tranchini, complemented by the darting runs of halfback Joe Bellino. Most of the line linemen who confused the Army a year ago have departed, giving way to rugged but inexperienced newcomers.

When the rain turned last year's field into a muddy bog, Army's rushing attack couldn't cope with the dancing jitters defense of the Navy front wall. Consequently, the Middies took over 14-0 with Ned Oldham scoring all the points and sailed into the Cotton Bowl.

The Cadets have the big horses this time although they do not have the depth of the Navy squad. A sturdy line that has grudgingly yielded only 91 yards a game on the ground, plus the new open offense give Army the edge. The betting people have made Army a 7½-point favorite.

All tickets were gobbled up long ago, assuring another 102,000-sell-out crowd (officially 98,333 plus guards, stadium workers and news and TV men.) They say downtown you can get $50 for a seat around midfield in the vast stadium. End zone tickets reportedly are being hustled for $35. The par value of all tickets is $6.

The colorful spectacle will be carried to the nation by NBC television and Mutual Radio with the kickoff scheduled for 1:30 p. m., EST, and air time 15 minutes earlier.

The Cadets have the big horses this time although they do not have the depth of the Navy squad. A sturdy line that has grudgingly yielded only 91 yards a game on the ground, plus the new open offense give Army the edge. The betting people have made Army a 7½-point favorite.

All tickets were gobbled up long ago, assuring another 102,000-sell-out crowd (officially 98,333 plus guards, stadium workers and news and TV men.) They say downtown you can get $50 for a seat around midfield in the vast stadium. End zone tickets reportedly are being hustled for $35. The par value of all tickets is $6.

The colorful spectacle will be carried to the nation by NBC television and Mutual Radio with the kickoff scheduled for 1:30 p. m., EST, and air time 15 minutes earlier.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Despite an angry weather forecast of rain, snow and freezing temperatures, unbeaten Army Friday remained a sound one-touchdown favorite over Navy for Saturday's traditional football test at Municipal Stadium.

Army's lonesome end offense, keyed around halfbacks Pete Dawkins and Bob Anderson and end Bill Carpenter, has functioned in 70-degree heat, drenching rain and bright sunshine. The wide open attack, leaning heavily on passing instead of the old grind out tactics, has brought Army through eight games without defeat. Only a tie with Pitt mars the record.

Navy has relied heavily on the passing arm of quarterback Joe Tranchini, complemented by the darting runs of halfback Joe Bellino. Most of the line linemen who confused the Army a year ago have departed, giving way to rugged but inexperienced newcomers.

When the rain turned last year's field into a muddy bog, Army's rushing attack couldn't cope with the dancing jitters defense of the Navy front wall. Consequently, the Middies took over 14-0 with Ned Oldham scoring all the points and sailed into the Cotton Bowl.

SPORTS SEGREGATION

Court Ruling To Have Big Effect On Sugar Bowl Tilt

By ED TUNSTALL
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A federal court ruling with far-reaching effects Friday knocked out a Louisiana law banning sports competition between white and Negro athletes.

The law, passed by the state legislature in 1956, prevented mixed boxing matches and teams with Negro players from meeting all-white squads in events such as the Sugar Bowl.

Although not concerned in the case, filed by Negro boxer Joe Dorsey, the Sugar Bowl could be the chief beneficiary of the ruling.

The Sugar Bowl has been searching for an opponent for top-ranked Louisiana State in the New Year's Day football game. The sports segregation law narrowed the field to a handful of teams.

The Air Force Academy, ranked eighth in this week's Associated Press poll, was the choicest plum for the Sugar Bowl. But like the other service academies—Army and Navy—the Air Force frowned on the sports segregation law and all but eliminated itself from consideration.

Although he declined comment on the ruling pending a consultation with attorneys, Sugar Bowl President Claude "Monk" Simons did not eliminate the Air Force as a possibility. President reports during the week all but had Clemson in the other corner to face unbeaten LSU in the post-season classic.

Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion, when informed of the ruling, said it was his mandatory duty to file an appeal.

The court, however, also tossed a stumbling block at the state by issuing an injunction preventing further enforcement of the law.

Judge John Minor Wisdom of the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and District Judges Herbert Christenberry and J. Skelly Wright signed the ruling. It dealt only with mixed athletic competition and did not touch segregated seating at sports events and other phases of the segregation law.

Dorsey filed the suit last year, contending his career was being jeopardized by the law. The statute also prevented lightweight champion Joe Brown, a Negro, from defending his title against Ralph Dupas here last May. Both are from New Orleans and boxing promoters said the bout would have drawn the largest gate in local ring history. The bout was held in Houston, Tex.

With regard to the Sugar Bowl, Gremlion said as far as he was concerned, "There was and is nothing to prevent the Air Force Academy from being invited and from accepting."

"The only deterrent might be the possibility of minority groups like the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, putting pressure on high officials in Washington. But if the Air Force wants to play the No. 1 team in the country they will resist that pressure."

Gremlion said his office "will do everything to cooperate in any effort to make it possible for the Air Force to play in the Sugar Bowl."

There are no Negroes on the Air Force Academy squad. But the practice of segregated seating—still unaffected by Friday's ruling—is the thorn. There was no comment from Air Force officials, who are known to want a bowl bid for the unbeaten but once-tied Falcons. The Air Force is also high on the list of eligibles to play Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

NON-BETTING AFFAIR

Vertex Favorite In Pimlico Race

By LOU PANOS
BALTIMORE (AP)—The combination of a small field and a stickout choice will make Saturday's $50,000 Pimlico Special a no-betting affair.

Just 24 hours before post-time, 4 p. m., EST, track officials obtained permission from the Maryland Racing Commission to run the event as a sporting gesture only and to substitute another race for the better.

Only four thoroughbreds were attracted for the mile-and-three-sixteenths special, and three of them were given little chance of upsetting Vertex, the pre-race favorite.

Owned by Frank A. Pirulli and J. J. Brunetti, the Maryland-bred 4-year-old son of the Rhymer came up to the race with three straight victories.

The only other scheduled starters were Roy E. Faircloth's Sharpshooter, Howell E. Jackson's Tick Tock and William S. Miller's Better Bee.

At Jamaica last week Vertex won the Idlewild Handicap by five lengths over a field which included Bardstown, Martins Ruliah Nisht Amool and Nashville. In his previous race he won the Trenton Handicap at Garden State.

Sammy Boulmetis, the Baltimore boy who was aboard him on these trips, will ride again. A victory by Vertex would mark the first triumph by a Maryland-bred since Chellendon won it in 1940 and the second for Boulmetis, who scored with Helioscope in 1954.

Sharpshooter, who has developed into one of the country's better handicap horses, comes into the Special fresh from a victory in the Naragansett Special. He previously won the Diamond Stake, Capitol and Valley Forge Handicaps and will be ridden by Howard Grant, second among the nation's leading riders.

Tick Tock, to be piloted by Bob Ussery, finished fifth to Nahoda in his last start, the $25,000 Sport Page Handicap at Jamaica. But he was last in the opening sixteenth of that six-furlong race and his handlers say he'll like the longer distance this time out. He earlier won the Vosburgh and Princeton Handicaps.

Despite the small field, Better Bee ranks as a distinct outsider, having finished second in an overnight allowance at Pimlico.

He has three stakes victories in the current campaign—the Appleton and Southern Cross at Gulfstream last winter, and the Citation Handicap at Balmoral. Karl Corte will ride.

All will carry 126 in the weight-for-age race, with $35,000 going to the winner, $10,000 for second and $5,000 for third.

Writers Prexy Presses Plan To Gain Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cy Kritzer, president of the National Assn. of Baseball Writers, Friday asked the 221 members to support a program to gain Hall of Fame voting recognition and "moderation" at World Series and All-Star Games.

Kritzer, veteran writer for the Buffalo, N. Y. Evening News, said the program would be discussed Dec. 2 at Washington when the scribes, mostly from minor league cities, hold their second annual meeting.

"Some of our writers have been covering baseball for more than 20 years," Kritzer said. "They certainly should get consideration in the voting for the Hall of Fame."

The New Yorker, in a note to Minor League President George Trautman, said he had received reports during the past year that some writers do not receive adequate working press associations when assigned to the Series or All-Star Games.

"It is difficult to justify a trip to a sports dressing room credentials," Kritzer said. "And some reporters have been given seats where they couldn't use their type-writers."

The writers will elect new officers at the Washington meeting, along with discussing scoring problems and a number of awards to be made by the association.

Dietzel Appears On Video Show This Afternoon

BATON ROUGE, La. (Special)—Louisiana State football Coach Paul Dietzel, chosen "Coach of the Year" by the National Broadcasting Company, will be honored by an appearance this afternoon on the NBC-TV Scoreboard Show, immediately following the Army-Navy game.

Coach Dietzel, who led LSU to an undefeated season, the Southeastern Conference championship, a Sugar Bowl bid, and to a No. 1 national ranking, will be interviewed by NBC's Russ Hodges and Otto Graham.

Dietzel will show filmed highlights of the Tigers' 62-0 win over Tulane.

Pennsylvania Represented By Eight Gridders

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—No matter which way the Army-Navy games goes Saturday, Pennsylvania will be in the midst of it.

Of the 22 players listed as probable starters, eight hail from Pennsylvania. Navy has 5 and Army 3. Another Pennsylvania boy, fullback Joe Matalavage, figures to see plenty of service for Navy behind Ray Wellborn, if he doesn't start.

Deaf Mute Is Named Border Loop All-Star

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sammy Oates, a deaf mute playing his first year of college football, is one of four Hardin-Simmons players named to the Border Conference all-star team.

Arizona State at Tempe placed three players and New Mexico A&M two on the first team, selected for The Associated Press by sports writers.

Every conference member but the University of Arizona was represented on the No. 1 unit.

End Bill Spanko, 6-foot, 180-pound junior from Arizona State, was the only unanimous choice.

Oates, 6-1, 210 pounds, missed being a unanimous choice by one vote. The 19-year-old freshman, who gets his offensive signals by sign language, is the top pass receiver for the Cowboys.

He grabbed 30 for 353 yards in nine games and is considered by Coach Sammy Baugh as one of the best defensive men on the team.

There are three repeaters from the 1957 all-conference squad—halfback Leon Burton of Arizona State, tackle Ted Edmondson and guard Joe Biggs, both of Hardin-Simmons. The fourth Cowboy on the squad is Pete Hart, 182-pound fullback who leads the conference in rushing.

With Burton and Hart in the first team backfield are Joe Kelly of New Mexico A&M and John Hangartner of Arizona State.

The first team includes eight seniors, two juniors and freshman Oates. The line averages 205 pounds and the back field 177 pounds.

Lightest men on the line are Spanko and Pool Webb of Texas Western, a 180-pound center.

Rounding out the first team are Bill Locklin, junior tackle from A&M, and Jerry Epps, guard from West Texas.

NY Hockey Player Freed Of Charges

BOSTON (AP)—New York Ranger forward George "Red" Sullivan Friday was acquitted of assaulting a fan last March in a Boston Garden brawl which developed from a televised National Hockey League game between the Rangers and the Boston Bruins.

Sullivan had been accused of attacking Stephen Tavila of Arlington.

Municipal Court Judge Elijah Adlow, listened to testimony of both men and said:

"It's too bad we can't have hockey games without a lot of abuse."

Here we have a lot of men bursting into something that was none of their business. There's no evidence here of wilful assault.

"The two brothers (Stephen and Antony Tavila) should have kept out of this. The defendant should have kept out of this."

"But I suppose they were exercising the American prerogative of butting in."

"I find him not guilty."

RETAINING CASTING CUP
NEW YORK (AP)—Jon Tarrantino, 21-year-old University of California junior from San Francisco, won the world casting title for the second straight year at Brussels. He retained the elaborate Garcia cup by piling up 13,958 points in the International Casting Federation tourney.

ARMY HUDDLE — Army Coach Earl Blaik poses with his team captain, Pete Dawkins, halfback from Royal Oak, Mich., as the Army team "looked over" Municipal Stadium yesterday in preparation for today's annual football game with Navy. The two service teams go into the 59th game of the series which began in 1890. Army has won 29, Navy 24 and there have been five ties.

DESPITE RAIN, SNOW

Cadets Still Solid Choice To Swamp Middies Today

By JACK HAND
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Despite an angry weather forecast of rain, snow and freezing temperatures, unbeaten Army Friday remained a sound one-touchdown favorite over Navy for Saturday's traditional football test at Municipal Stadium.

Army's lonesome end offense, keyed by an angry weather forecast of rain, snow and freezing temperatures, unbeaten Army Friday remained a sound one-touchdown favorite over Navy for Saturday's traditional football test at Municipal Stadium.

Army maintains an edge, going into the 59th game of this series that dates back to 1890. Army has won 29, Navy 24 and five have been ties. However, since Eddie Erdelatz took over as Navy coach in 1950, he has piled up a 5-2-1 margin over Red Blaik, the veteran Army coach who is celebrating his silver anniversary as a head coach (18 at Army, 7 at Dartmouth).

The inadequacy of Army last year against Navy's shifting defense, sent Blaik into meditation. Out of it emerged his new offense—a wide split end and an unbalanced line—that has been tabbed the lonesome end. To make it work, a team needs a fine pass receiver for the end, a solid running threat and an excellent passer.

Army meets all the requirements with Carpenter as the lone end, Dawkins and Anderson to do the running (and some passing) and Joe Caldwell as the chief air arm.

Erdelatz has hinted he may have something new to show Army. Guesses include his own version of the lonesome end. The Cadets won't be caught napping. Essentially, Navy's attack centers on the passing of Tranchini, whom Blaik calls the superior of Tom Forrestal, the 57 ace, the break-away running of Bellino and the crashing power of the two fullbacks, Ray Wellborn and Joe Matalavage.

Navy sorely misses tackle Bob Reitsnyder and end Tom Hyde who were lost for the season. Crippled last season by a series of injuries, Navy lost to Tulane and Notre Dame but now has reached its peak.

On comparative scores against their only common foe, Notre Dame, the Cadets should be whipping favorites. Army beat the Irish 14-2 while Notre Dame jolted Navy 40-20.

Both teams are in good physical shape for the big test. Anderson suffered a rib injury in the Rice game and aggravated it against Villanova. However, Blaik says he will be ready for Navy. Last year Anderson was injured going into the game and was hurt again in the first period. He was held to something like 13 yards.

Just one final word of warning for those tempted to go off on the deep end for the present Army team. Remember 1950? Army came up to the game with a 17-game winning streak and was unbeaten in its last 28. Navy had been muddling through during Erdelatz' first year as coach. The final score: Navy 14, Army 2.

IN WALES TOURNEY

Buchholz In Top Shape For Match

By DON TAIT
SYDNEY (AP)—Earl Buchholz, newest ray of hope in the U. S. Davis Cup picture, says he is in the best condition ever for Saturday's vital match with Ashley Cooper, Wimbledon and U. S. tennis champion.

Not only is the new South Wales singles title at stake but a Buchholz victory could be the spark that would set the American team aflame and result in its winning the huge international trophy late in December.

The 18-year-old Buchholz already has defeated Mal Anderson and Roy Emerson of the Australian Cup squad and Alex Olmedo of the U. S. team to reach the final here. He also gained the junior final of the New South Wales meet but scratched from that Friday to concentrate on the big one Saturday.

He worked out for a half hour with Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, on the White City courts. Neither peeled off his sweat shirt in the drill. Buchholz showed no ill effects of Friday's grueling five-set semifinal duel with Emerson and the three-set junior doubles match in which he and his partner were defeated.

"I've been looking forward to playing Ashley," he said, "but I never expected it to happen so soon after my arrival in Australia. 'Maybe I should head for home while I'm still winning.' He added with a grin.

"I'll have to go all out to beat him," Cooper said of the St. Louis youngster. "He has been playing wonderfully well."

Cooper is the defending New South Wales champion and is seeded No. 1. Buchholz is the first unseeded junior ever to reach the title round of this tourney.

Two doubles titles were decided Friday. Anderson and Neale Fraser defeated Cooper and Rod Laver in a dull men's doubles final 5-7, 9-7, 6-4, 6-4. The uninspired play so irked the selectors of the Australian Cup team that they announced that future Cooper and Fraser would play together. They also paired Anderson with Laver and Emerson with Bob Mark.

Two Australian veterans, Mrs. Thelma Long and Mrs. Mary Hawton, combined to subdue the South African pair of Sandra Reynolds and Renee Schuurman 9-7, 1-6, 7-5 for the women's crown.

Mrs. Long and Orlando Sirola of Italy, defeated Miss Schuurman and Laver 6-1, 6-3 in the semifinals of the mixed doubles. They will meet Miss Reynolds and Mark for the title Saturday.

Ruling May Give More Top Events

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Sportsmen Friday generally agreed better events may result from the federal court ruling that Louisiana's ban on mixed athletic contests is unconstitutional.

Officials of the Sugar Bowl had little to say about the effects of the ruling, although the annual sports festival stands to benefit in several ways.

Joe Dorsey Negro fighter who gained the ruling on grounds his career was being hurt, commented, "It's wonderful."

This was echoed by boxing promoter Bonnie Geigerman.

Basketball and boxing as well are expected to be aided by having a chance to play higher caliber competitors with resulting bigger box office receipts.

Geigerman said, "This is a great fight town, but it hasn't been able to demonstrate it recently because the law has prevented some good fights the city could have had."

Geigerman said New Orleans could have had the recent Ralph Dupas-Joe Brown and Kenny Lane-Joe Brown lightweight title fights had the law not excluded them.

"They were staged in Houston because they could not be held here—and they made Houston into a big fight town," he said.

Another result, he said, will be "winners instead of losers at the box office."

Hank Kusma, new basketball coach at Loyola University of the South here, said the law prevented him from scheduling some of the outstanding teams.

When contacting these teams about a game," he said, "the first question asked is if their one or two colored boys would be allowed to play."

Some of these teams, he said, could have been played on their campuses but he likes to arrange games in a home—and home basis.

Claude Monk Simons, president of the Sugar Bowl, said he couldn't estimate the effect on the Sugar Bowl. The Sugar Bowl executive committee, he said, will have to study the ruling.

Another Sugar Bowl executive committee member, Paul DeBlanc, declined to comment on the effect of the ruling, but said, "It was a foregone conclusion that if the law was tested it would be declared unconstitutional."

The Sugar Bowl stages all kinds of sports events. The ruling may aid at the box office and in selecting better contestants, including basketball and football. The segregation law has excluded the possibility of inviting Army and other top national football teams.

Cougars May Bolt PCC In Bid For Bowl

SEATTLE (AP)—Washington's Gov. Albert D. Rosellini has proposed a last-ditch maneuver on which Washington State College pins its hopes of appearing in the New Year's Day football bowl game, a WSC regent said Friday.

Atty. William Goodwin, Tacoma member of the board, told a special meeting of the Seattle Cougar (WSC) Club the governor was participating in the move.

Goodwin declined to say what the action might be.

"We're not dead yet," Goodwin said. "We're still wriggling."

Goodwin's announcement came as more angered WSC alumni urged the school to bolt the Pacific Coast Conference and seek a post-season game. It was rumored in New Orleans, home of the Sugar Bowl, that WSC would already have done so. But the school's athletic director, Stan Bates, said here there was no substance to the report.

One source said Rosellini has spoken with Gov. Goodwin Knight of California to get clearance for the Cougars to play in either the Sugar Bowl or "Gator Bowl. Rosellini could not be reached for immediate comment.

Gates said WSC was being given serious consideration for the Sugar Bowl. He had talked with Sugar Bowl officials Friday. He said the deadline for action is Saturday night.

"The Sugar Bowl will make its choice this weekend, probably by tomorrow afternoon," he said.

Veto action by UCLA and the University of Southern California Wednesday killed WSC's petition for the Coast Conference to waive a rule barring PCC schools from any post-season game except the Rose Bowl. WSC said that all seven other conference schools favored their petition. "The Coast Conference dies July 1, 1959."

Washington State finished the season with a 7-3 record and narrowly lost out to California for the Rose Bowl choice.

Committee For Gator Bowl Lists 7 Teams

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A Gator Bowl prospect list of six teams including Florida and four others—Southeastern Conference members was announced Friday by the selection committee.

The second team, Wolfson said, will not be announced until Saturday night.

Other teams on the list announced after a committee meeting included Mississippi, South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt.

Tea-Shower Given For Miss Hodgkins

Miss Barbara Hodgkins, bride-elect of Carl Morris Brandon, was honored with a tea-shower in the Kilbourne home economics department.

White chrysanthemums artistically arranged in a crystal and silver epergne formed the centerpiece for the tea table covered with a pink cloth. The service table also held the punch bowl and containers of little individual cakes decorated in pink and white.

The bride's table, laid with a cut-work linen cloth, was decorated with an arrangement of lily-of-the-valley in a silver container. Mr. O. D. Malone invited guests to sign the bride's book.

The gift tables were made festive by pink and white flower arrangements in crystal containers.

Miss Hodgkins was wearing a mauve brocade original design featuring a bell-shaped skirt. Her corsage, a gift of the hostess was white carnations. Mrs. E. J. Hodgkins, mother of the honoree, wore an aqua designer cotton and a white corsage.

Mrs. J. P. Littlefield was in the receiving line with the honoree and her mother to receive the fifty guests who called.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Dean Malone, Mrs. C. E. Major, Mrs. Philip Littlefield, Mrs. L. K. Murray, Mrs. H. G. Hammons, Mrs. J. C. Sowell, Mrs. L. B. Garner, Mrs. Wayne Edwards, Mr. H. G. Wactor and Mrs. R.C. Craft.

Poplar HDC Holds Meeting In Smith Home

Highlight of the November meeting of the Poplar Home Demonstration Club, held in the home of Mrs. James Smith, was a report by Mrs. Herman Ragus on the recent meeting of the East Carroll Parish Home Demonstration Club meeting.

The club president, Mrs. David Harvey, conducted the business session, assisted by Mrs. Tom Shields. The singing of "God Bless America" opened the program, with Mrs. Thomas Beck as pianist.

The planning of a Christmas box for a needy family was discussed and the president, Mrs. Harvey, named as chairman.

Each member was asked to bring two gifts to the December meeting, one for the secret pal and the other for the membership exchange of gifts. At that time, the secret pals for the year will be made known.

Mrs. Thomas Beck presented the nutrition letter during the program period; Mrs. Bernard Rosenzweig gave consumer education; Mrs. Walter Smith instructed in home management and Mrs. Herman Ragus gave details on the latest in house furnishings.

A demonstration by Mrs. E. H. Ragus on saving steps in bed making was very informative and helpful.

Seven guests who were present to enjoy the meeting with the club members and hostess included Mrs. Walter Moses, Mrs. Charlie Rachell, Mr. Thomas Beck, Mrs. Carl Resodsky, Mrs. Barbara Pilot, Mrs. Jerry Pearson and Mrs. E. H. Ragus.

The hostess served cake and coffee at the conclusion of the meeting.

Housing Of Collectors' Various Items

By BETTY PEPIS

A carefully selected collection can often be the key to a room's scheme. It may suggest other furnishings and accessories or even the color scheme.

A collection of shells, for example, inspired the sea tones of blue and green and the fishnet curtains used in a bedroom by decorator Edith Hernandez. Also appropriately added to this setting was an old captain's chest once used on Atlantic voyages and now serving to store linens and bedding. Among the most unusual hobby collections used to decorate a home are the hats owned by fashion designer Bonnie Cashion. There are more than a hundred of these, all told, and they are hung on pegs on a long white wall in the designer's studio in her country home.

The hats come from all around the world and include an old Korean man's hat of horsehair, a Mexican wool sombrero with colorful "pigtales" of braided wool hanging down the back, all sorts of straw shapes from India, Italy, and the West Indian Isles.

They are colorful and interesting to look at, and provide an appropriately "fashionable" background for a designer. They have a secondary use, too. Miss Cashion has been known to "borrow" money every year.

one from the wall to wear and reports that, on occasion, a friend has helped herself to headgear after a visit to the house.

Cherubs are one decorator's delight. They are repeated all through her home. An antique Italian angel carved of wood hangs above her fireplace. Pillows of linen printed with white cherubs on a muted tone enliven her off-white living-room couch. Two bronze lamps are French and the bases represent angelic figures in flight. The lady in question even wears one: a tiny lapel pin fashioned of gold.

The well-known decorator Dorothy Draper has also been known to pin on herself the oversized cabbage rose that has become her signature. In Draper-decorated rooms, the rose is apt to turn up not only in vases but woven into the carpet, printed on the curtains and painted on accessories. Her color schemes, too, reflect the colors of the rose. Large doses of American Beauty red and deep leafy green are effectively toned down always with touches of white and of tan with touches of black.

Miss Napastiuk Honored With Pre-Nuptial Parties

Mrs. Sam Thomas Batton and Mrs. Wilburn Patrick entertained their home in Lake Providence, La., bride-elect of Ernest Glynde Mangum.

The party was a morning coffee in the home of Mrs. Batton near Transylvania. Fall arrangements of bronze and gold chrysanthemums were used throughout the party area.

Friends of Miss Napastiuk came throughout the morning for the social hours.

COFFEE

Another lovely affair for Miss Virginia Napastiuk held prior to her marriage to Ernest Glynde Mangum, was the party hosted by Mrs. S. K. Mitchiner and Mrs. Ernest Wilson, at the Mitchiner home on Olivedell Plantation.

Golden marigolds and purple heather were effectively used on the tea table and autumn hued chrysanthemums were placed at various points in the party rooms.

OYSTER SUPPER

Complimenting Miss Virginia Napastiuk and Mr. Ernest Glynde Mangum were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Phillips. They entertained with an oyster supper in their home in Schneider Lane, Lake Providence.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Phillips were Mrs. Charles McClung and Mrs. William K. Gore.

Those who enjoyed the supper and evening were Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn E. Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClung and Mrs. and Mrs. William K. Gore, the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and the honorees, Miss Napastiuk and Mr. Mangum.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Kiley E. Man-

gum were hosts for the Napastiuk-Mangum rehearsal dinner, in their home in Lake Providence. Dinner was served prior to the church rehearsal and was served buffet style from a long dining table on the spacious porch of the Mangum's home.

The centerpiece of the table was made up of potted plants and multiple hued chrysanthemums from the flower gardens of Mrs. Mangum.

The bride-elect chose this occasion to present her attendants with silver necklaces with cultured pearl pendants and those presenting the bridal music received gifts of perfume.

The groom-elect presented his attendants with cuff links and tie clasps.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Pastor Criticizes Women On Habits Of Dress

By ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I am a minister, to her family?

I like your column for two reasons. First, it is interesting and helpful for me to know of the variety of problems facing people today and second your advice is sensible.

But I must disagree with the answer you gave the insurance agent who was embarrassed by the examples of undress he found in many homes. The Lord and the agent are unaware that the poor housewife you describe has "a plumber in the basement, a pie in the oven" and no time to dress.

Ministers who make house calls rarely arrive before 2:00 P.M. Would you believe that we frequently find women still clad in pajamas and bathrobes at this late hour? And these women have no pie in the oven. Their pie is in the bakery window down the street and the husband must pay 65 cents for it on his way home.

This problem has serious overtones. Has the modern woman lost respect for her home? Does she no longer care how she appears

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Must Accept Children Just As They Are

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

We all have in mind an image of what we call a manly boy or an effeminate girl. We forget, at times, that there are many variations of this image and that some children, while not living up fully to it, are capable of carrying on their sex roles in life.

Mrs. G. T. writes "I have worried and wondered about my son and have finally determined to ask you what you think of him. He is 10 years old and by every count quite effeminate in his ways."

"He does not want to play with boys because he says they are too rough. He does not show any interest in sports. He is very interested in clothes, hats, flowers and books."

"He says he wants to be a dress designer when he grows up and while I have no objection to that I do not want him to be a sissy—but a real man."

"His father is very impatient with him—and I think somewhat ashamed of him. He used to play ball with him, and he has taken him hunting and fishing. But he gets very angry because the boy is not interested in these things. This is quite a bone of contention between us. I don't know what to do."

Answer

First of all you both have to accept the boy as he is. The father's criticism and display of temperment over the boy's many deficiencies are calculated to draw the boy closer to you—and thus make him more effeminate.

It is quite possible that when the boy matures there will be a real change in his nature. Meanwhile, if his father can give him acceptance and understanding, it will be easier for the boy to want to be like him.

But you also have to recognize that there are boys who are effeminate and girls who are masculine in their appearance and actions. On a long scale measuring masculinity and femininity—the most masculine men would be at one end, the most feminine girls at the other.

And moving toward the center would be many individuals who had some characteristics of the opposite sex. It is only if a boy rebels against being a man and taking on a man's role in life that you would be justified in getting psychiatric help in orienting him to his sex. Right now it isn't necessary.

doing right by her. Her boy friend comes over any hour of the day or night and stays as long as she pleases. When she's out with girl friends and he doesn't find her at home he gets mad.

Can this be love or shall we ignore it and laugh it off? Muddled and befuddled.

DEAR M AND B: This is NOT love. It's not even a reasonable facsimile. And I see little to laugh off—it's not funny. A 16-year-old should not be devoting her time exclusively to one boy, and three dates a week is ONE too many. High school kids should date on Friday and Saturday nights only.

No boy should be permitted to drop in whenever he feels like it and stay as long as he likes. He has developed a proprietary interest in your daughter which is unhealthy.

Sit down with this girl and insist on a new set of regulations before the situation becomes Muddled and Befuddled beyond hope.

DEAR ANN: My sister-in-law reads the scratch sheets like mad and loves to bet, but she doesn't care to go to the track. She knows my husband and I go often so she's always asking me to place a few $2 bets for her.

Her horses never come in and she never pays me back. This has been going on for a long time and $2 bets really mount up. Please tell me what to do without getting her mad at me.—ALSO RAN in a situation like this, SOMEONE is bound to be mad. The way it stands, it's you. Simply tell her you're through playing booky and explain that you can't stand her losses and yours, too.

I have women in my church who teach school and work in offices. They fix breakfast for a husband whose work day begins at 8:00 a.m. They drive their children to school. Long before 9:00 a.m. they are dressed, the morning dishes are washed and the house is in order for the family's return.

So you see, it CAN be done. — A HUMBLE READER

Of course it CAN be done. But not all women have the energy to get zinging at dawn.

Three cheers for those who can do it. But is it fair to label those who cannot as women who have no respect for their families? It may not be indifference, but meanness. Nevertheless, thank you. Humble Reader, for accentuating the positive.

DESPITE STRIKE

Airlines Still Going Strong

The nations strike-crippled airline network kept apace of passenger demand Friday, due to a lull in travel. But the lines were braced for an expected weekend flood of homeward-bound passengers.

A flurry of court activity in Florida and New York had only one major effect—it further delayed a threatened strike against American, one of the nation's Big Four airlines.

Already on strike are Eastern and Trans World, third and fourth in the nation in passenger miles flown annually. American is first. United, which is second, is still flying.

TWA was struck a week ago by 6,700 members of the International Assn. of Machinists. The strike grounded 200 planes and idled 19,000 employees.

On Monday, 550 members of the Flight Engineers International Assn. and 5,500 I.A.M. mechanics struck Eastern, idling 16,000 employees and grounding 188 airliners.

Nearly 50,000 reservations a day were knocked out by the strikes. This led to a snarl in holiday travel Wednesday and diverted thousands of stranded airline passengers to railroads and bus lines.

With the Friday lull, however, operations returned to normal at most of the nations airports. Non-striking airlines were easily able to take up the load.

In Miami, U.S. Dist. Judge Emmett C. Choate prepared a restraining order against flight engineers in their demands on Eastern that they not be forced to take pilot training before assignment to jet flights.

"I am going to do this on the grounds that normal employee relations have to do with working conditions and not qualifications," he said.

An engineer's union spokesman said this would not stop their strike, because wages and working conditions are issues in the strike.

"We will continue striking on the other issues," said O. N. Roberts, head of the Miami chapter of the engineers union.

Even if the engineers were forced out of the strike picture, the strike of mechanics could keep Eastern closed, as it has TWA.

In New York, U.S. Dist. Judge Frederick VanPelt Bryan extended until Monday an order blocking a strike of the Air Lines Pilots Assn. against American Airlines.

The 1,500 pilots are seeking higher wages, a shorter work week and rule changes. They first were enjoined last Monday against striking.

Bryan criticized both the pilots and the airline for failing to get together in a scheduled meeting earlier in the week. The two sides couldn't agree on where to hold it.

"The attitude of neither party commends itself to the court. Both have failed morally in the matter," he said.

The judge said other court business had forced him to put off a hearing in the case until Monday. So he continued his restraining order against the pilots' strike until then.

Indian State Passes Measure About Schools

TRIVANDRUM, India (AP)—Kerala, India's only Communist-governed state, passed a controversial bill Friday enabling the state to take over some schools.

The bill approved by the Kerala Assembly was a watered-down version of a measure that touched off violent demonstrations among large Christian communities last year.

The bill permits the state to take over any private school it considers poorly managed except those established by a vague clause in the constitution.

The clause is so vague that there was a dispute over what schools were exempt from state seizure. The two groups make up a third of the state's population. But the Communists were talking of exempting only Jewish and British-Indian schools.

About 7,000 of Kerala's 10,000 schools are private-operated. More than half the private schools are managed by churches, mostly Roman Catholic.

The state's school bill and its recent revision of text books have been interpreted by the churches as a Communist attempt to support its struggle for the control of India by influencing the youth.

Independence Day Is Noted For Albania

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department Friday noted Albania's independence day with an expression of hope that "Albania will once more be free."

The Department said Albanian patriots established an independent nation Nov. 28, 1912 but since then independence "has been compromised and destroyed by forces against which the Albanian people, in spite of their steadfast courage, could not prevail."

"At the present time the Soviet Union is preventing the Albanian people from realizing their desire for freedom...."

"As free men, the American people honor the day of Albanian independence and look forward to the time when Albania will once more be free."

Double Life Of Sailor Is Disclosed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The double life of a Navy sailor—who missed his outboard ship just before V-E Day in 1945—was disclosed Friday.

Carlton Vance (Jiggs) Mings, 37, born at Swenson, Tex., is in the brig on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay, facing court-martial for his 13½-year absence. He is charged with desertion in wartime.

The charge against Mings, who fathered three children during his 4,841-day AWOL, could, technically, have meant the death penalty.

No date for the court-martial has been set.

Mings, a ranch worker, did not marry Wilma, his children's mother, his attorney said, because he thought it was wrong to do so under a false name.

They finally were wed, however, by the Treasure Island chaplain early this month.

Mings, a lanky, slow-talking and slender 6-footer with greying brown hair, said he was in a dazed condition when the cruiser Chester returned from the Pacific war zone for repairs early in 1945.

He was given leave just before the ship was to sail again. He said he sought solace in drink because of tensions from the Chester's heavy action in the Pacific, including several bombardments of Japan and damage by the enemy.

When he returned to the dock, the Chester was gone.

Mings figured he was in trouble and began drifting. He met Wilma and they set up housekeeping—eventually having three children, Carl, now 11, Joseph, who will be 9 on Christmas Day and Angie, 2.

The mother and children are in Porterville, Calif., where she is an employee of the Porterville State Hospital.

Mings brooded over his double life and consulted a relative about how to turn himself in. The relative notified the FBI who picked Mings up in Porterville.

Claims Negroes Steals Jewelry

BATON ROUGE (AP) — A New Orleans man said two Negroes grabbed him from behind and stole cash and jewelry valued at $4,675.

Carl A. Dahl told officers one of the men held him Thursday night while the other took $2,500 cash, a $2,000 diamond ring and a $175 watch.

The robbery occurred only one block from the police station.

BATON ROUGE (Special) — License plates for cars, motorcycles and most buses will go on sale in Louisiana Monday, it was announced yesterday.

The tags may be purchased through Feb. 6, 1956, without penalty, according to Revenue Collector Robert Roland.

Tags for house trailers, trucks and buses that also carry freight will go on sale Jan. 2, 1956 and may be purchased through May 1, 1956, without penalty.

Reds Propose Inspection On Limited Basis

GENEVA (UPI)—Russia and its satellites Friday proposed a plan for limited ground and "open skies" inspection in NATO and Warsaw Pact countries to prevent surprise attacks.

Immediate Western reaction to the proposal, the first concrete offer made by the Communists at the conference to prevent surprise attacks, was highly skeptical.

Western conference sources said the offer was linked to a Soviet demand for discussion of political and diplomatic issues. The West maintains the conference was called to discuss purely technical questions.

The Communist demands for political discussion was contained in a formal "declaration" from the Soviet government outlining the Kremlin's policy stand presented by Soviet Chief Delegate Vasily V. Kuznetsov.

The declaration was not made public, but Soviet sources said it took the West to task over outstanding East-West cold war issues.

U.S. British and Soviet delegation chiefs at the parallel talks on a nuclear weapons test ban, meanwhile, met secretly for 30 minutes to consider another Russian proposal made Thursday night.

The nature and scope of the Soviet plan had not been disclosed.

The Eastern proposal on surprise attacks came unexpectedly. Until Friday, the Communists had made no concrete offer and had stalled discussion by refusing to consider technical points introduced by the West.

Authority To Build Is Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — United Gas Pipe Line Co., Shreveport, La., asked the Federal Power Commission Friday for authority to build $1,176,175 worth of natural gas pipeline facilities in Louisiana.

The project, in St. Mary Parish, would be designed to make available an estimated 304,811,000,000 cubic feet of recoverable gas reserves in the Belle Isle area which are under contract to United.

BUYS HALF INTEREST MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — General Mills announced it has purchased a half interest in the Nebraska safflower processing plant of the Pacific Vegetable Oil Corp.

McElroy And Dulles Meet At Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy, fresh from a meeting with President Eisenhower, huddled with Secretary of State Dulles at the Pentagon Friday.

Dulles declined to discuss the subject of the conference except to say that "it relates to something that is coming up in the Cabinet next week."

Asked if some new crisis in the Berlin situation was involved, Dulles replied: "No, no."

Dulles visits the Pentagon only rarely and then usually only when some major political-military subjects are up for consideration.

Pentagon public relations officials told newsmen the meeting was "a routine interdepartmental matter."

Dulles, asked if the budget for the government's next fiscal year was to be discussed at the meeting, said it might come up, but implied that was not the purpose for his Pentagon visit.

The budget includes foreign aid money in which both the State and Defense departments have an interest.

McElroy in announcing his meeting with Dulles—and another with top military leaders—did not disclose the subject of his conference with the State Department head. There was speculation, however, that he and Dulles would discuss the Berlin situation.

The conference with the military chiefs apparently was to give them Eisenhower's views on the military budget.

The defense chief, in answer to questions, said it "would be very difficult" to hold the fiscal 1960 military budget to the level of this year, about $40,600,000,000.

But, he declined to discuss detailed figures in any way.

TV SETS INCREASE WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Registration of television sets in Poland has climbed 45,000 to a total of 67,000, official figures showed Friday. Industry sources estimated probably an additional 35,000 sets were in use but not licensed.

Soviet Bloc Proposals On Control Told

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet bloc delegates Friday threw into the conference on surprise attack a list of disarmament and arms control proposals which the West considers politically loaded.

Western delegates refused to consider them in this form. Two Communist documents were filed. They were reported to touch on Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki's plan for demilitarization of central Europe.

Other items, informants said, sought closing of U. S. overseas bases, limitation of the range of weapons available to some of the North Atlantic allies, and Soviet participation in a big - power scheme to neutralize the Middle East.

"They seem to have cleaned out the waste basket and come with versions of all the plans and projects they have thought up over the last few years," a Western source said.

Western participants in the 10-nation meeting said they would be willing to study with the Soviet bloc those parts of the documents dealing with purely technical aspects of the prevention of surprise attack, but only after the political proposals were weeded out.

The documents were submitted by Soviet Dep. Foreign Minister Vassili Kuznetsov and Jiri Hajek of Czechoslovakia on behalf of the Eastern participants — the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Albania.

The Western nations—the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada—have spent hours in the conference room explaining that they will not be drawn into a sweeping discussion of disarmament and cold war problems at this meeting.

The other East-West conference in Geneva—the Big Three talks on suspension of nuclear tests—cloaked itself in the deepest secrecy to keep its negotiations moving.

For the second day in a row the American, British and Soviet delegates got down to informal discussions. They agreed to hold a formal session Saturday.

Western sources said the Soviet Union seemed to be holding to the same basic position for an immediate and permanent suspension of atomic and hydrogen weapons tests.

Mrs. Garson had been living in nearby Bel-Air. Funeral services will be held next Monday in the Wee Kirk of the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale.

SPACE PHYSICIST

Northern Light Cause Probed

CHICAGO (AP)—Charged particles from the sun which leak a soft radiation into the earth's auroral zone may be the direct cause of the northern lights, a noted space physicist said here Friday.

The scientist, Dr. James A. Van

Allen, 44-year-old State University of Iowa expert who heads up the radiation studies in the nation's earth satellite program, told the American Physical Society about radiation reports from Explorers I, III and IV, and Pioneer I.

He described the doughnut-shaped "Van Allen radiation belt" which encircles the earth. He called this belt a reservoir of charged particles which work their way into the outer reaches of the earth's magnetic field and are trapped.

These particles, he said, drift systematically. Protons move west and electrons move east, both corkscrewing back and forth from the Northern to Southern Hemisphere.

Electrons in the belt are lost mainly by atmospheric scattering and most protons are lost by collisions with atmospheric constituents. But there is a steady leakage of radiation into the auroral zone.

As well as causing the northern lights, he suggested, this leakage may also contribute to general heating of the atmosphere.

"It also is probable, he said, that solar plasma surrounding the sun occasionally replenishes this reservoir. Arrival of this solar plasma, he added, may be directly responsible for magnetic storms.

Dr. Van Allen emphasized that labeling of the charged particles in the belts as electrons and protons is thus far only "a reasonable supposition."

He said definite answers on such points as the radiation belt's origin, spectrum and all the types of radiation, must await further flights of more elaborate detection systems.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Mississippi braces for hard freeze

Mississippi braced for more freezing weather Saturday, with icy winds driving the temperatures to the freezing mark on the Gulf Coast by Saturday night.

Forecasters predicted the freezing rains and prospects of sleet would diminish during the night as the mercury dips to an expected low of 22 in the far northeast corner of the state and to the freezing mark in part of the southern belt.

The predicted lows were revised downward about nightfall for the second time Friday as the cold moved southward faster than expected.

There was one cheering note in the revision. The weatherman said the hard freeze in the north and central areas would follow a decrease in cloudiness that had threatened to dump sleet and freezing rain over most of the roads in the north and central section as many Thanksgiving holiday travelers and football fans took to the road. The Mississippi State football game was scheduled for Oxford, in the northern part of the state, during the afternoon.

Lows predicted for the northern third of the state Friday night were from 22-26 in the northeast to 26-30 in the southern part of the area. The central belt was expecting lows of from 24 to 32, with the coldest weather in the eastern half.

In the south, the lows predicted ranged from 26 to 36, with all parts of the belt expecting lows of from 23 to 32.

DESPITE STRIKE

Airlines Still Going Strong

The nations strike-crippled airline network kept pace of passenger demand Friday, due to a lull in travel. But the lines were braced for an expected weekend flood of homeward-bound passengers.

A flurry of court activity in Florida and New York had only one major effect—it further delayed a threatened strike against American, one of the nation's Big Four airlines.

Already on strike are Eastern and Trans World, third and fourth in the nation in passenger miles flown annually. American is first, United, which is second, is still flying.

TWA was struck a week ago by 6,700 members of the International Assn. of Machinists. The strike grounded 200 planes and idled 19,000 employees.

On Monday, 550 members of the Flight Engineers International Assn. and 5,500 IAM mechanics struck Eastern, idling 16,000 employees and grounding 183 airliners.

Nearly 50,000 reservations a day were knocked out by the strikes. This led to a snarl in holiday travel Wednesday and diverted thousands of stranded airline passengers to railroads and bus lines.

With the Friday lull, however, operations returned to normal at most of the nation's airports. Non-striking airlines were easily able to take up the load.

In Miami, U.S. Dist. Judge Emmet C. Choate prepared a restraining order against flight engineers in their demands on Eastern that they not be forced to take pilot training before assignment to jet flights.

"I am going to do this on the grounds that normal employee relations have to do with working conditions and not qualifications," he said.

An engineer's union spokesman said this would not stop their strike, because wages and working conditions are issues in the strike.

"We will continue striking on the other issues," said O. N. Roberts, head of the Miami chapter of the engineers union.

Even if the engineers were forced out of the strike picture, the strike of mechanics could keep Eastern closed, as it has TWA.

In New York, U.S. Dist. Judge Frederick VanPelt Bryan extended until Monday an order blocking a strike of the Air Lines Pilots Assn. against American Airlines.

The 1,500 pilots are seeking higher wages, a shorter work week and rules changes. They first were enjoined last Monday against striking.

Bryan criticized both the pilots and the airline for failing to get together in a scheduled meeting earlier in the week. The two sides couldn't agree on where to hold it.

"The attitude of neither party commends itself to the court. Both have failed morally in the matter," he said.

The judge said other court business had forced him to put off a hearing in the case until Monday. So he continued his restraining order against the pilots' strike until then.

Independence Day Is Noted For Albania

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department Friday noted Albania's independence day with an expression of hope that "Albania will once more be free."

The department said Albanian patriots established an independent nation Nov. 28, 1912 but since then independence "has been compromised and destroyed by forces against which the Albanian people, in spite of their steadfast courage, could not prevail."

"At the present time the Soviet Union is preventing the Albanian people from realizing their desire for freedom."

"As free men, the American people honor the day of Albanian independence and look forward to the time when Albania will once more be free."

United States Asks Cyprus Settlement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States called on the U.N. Friday to do everything it can to enable those directly concerned to reach a settlement on the future of Cyprus. U.S. Delegate James W. Barco said the United States had not endorsed any proposals now before the U.N. Political Committee on Cyprus because "no formula has appeared to be generally acceptable to all concerned."

Columbia came up with the latest proposal: creation of a U.N. observer group that could also serve as a good offices committee to aid in bringing peace to Britain's eastern Mediterranean island colony. British Minister of State Allan Noble appeared to throw cold water on the Colombian plan. "We do not think this complicated and explosive problem of Cyprus is one which the United Nations can reasonably be asked to take over," he said. Greek Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff-Tossizza said he wanted a clearer definition of the aims of any observer group.

Love, Grayson; two nieces; four nephews, and several grandnieces and grandnephews.

Mrs. Eduardo Massa Jr. Dies

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Mrs. Eduardo Massa Jr., 60, widow of the president of European Agency Co., Inc., died Friday after a long illness.

Massa died last February. He headed the import-export agency, and Mrs. Massa was vice president.

Mrs. Massa, the former Paz Maria Raines of Guadalajara, Mexico, was active in social, artistic and religious organizations here.

Funeral services will be held Saturday. Survivors include a nephew, H. P. Sandi of Monroe, La.

EXAMINATIONS

Examinations for dental technicians at $4800 per year. Army reserve unit aides at $4040 to $4890 annually, and livestock inspectors at $4040 yearly are now being given by the U.S. Civil Service Commission. Applications and further information are available from John S. Daniel, examiner-in-charge, at the Monroe Post Office.

United States Asks Cyprus Settlement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States called on the U.N. Friday to do everything it can to enable those directly concerned to reach a settlement on the future of Cyprus.

U.S. Delegate James W. Barco said the United States had not endorsed any proposals now before the U.N. Political Committee on Cyprus because "no formula has appeared to be generally acceptable to all concerned."

Colombia came up with the latest proposal: creation of a U.N. observer group that could also serve as a good offices committee to aid in bringing peace to Britain's eastern Mediterranean island colony.

British Minister of State Allan Noble appeared to throw cold water on the Colombian plan.

"We do not think this complicated and explosive problem of Cyprus is one which the United Nations can reasonably be asked to take over," he said.

Greek Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff-Tossias said he wanted a clearer definition of the aims of any observer group.

Tiffie, Baton Rouge, and Miss Jeanne Hollis, Haile; three sisters, Mrs. Brown Carney and Mrs. Drew Johnson, both of Marion, and Mrs. A. H. Otterstetter, San Antonio, Tex.

A native of Columbia, Mr. Ray died Thursday in a Shreveport hospital after a short illness. He was 76 and had lived in Monroe for a number of years.
